GOVERNOR GETS PLAYGROUND, HARBOR BILLSTransit Measures on First Reading.

BY CARL WARREN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]

Legislation of importance to Chicago passed a big share of the time in both houses of the legislature today.

The Chicago bills were sent to the governor, one was passed and one passed in the senate, and two others were introduced in the house of representatives.

At the same time seven of the Chicago bills, which have been passed by the house, quietly came out of the senate utilities committee and were placed on first reading on the senate chamber's calendar. The eighth bill, relating to subway assessments, was approved by the municipalities committee, to which it had been referred inadvertently, and will be on the calendar with the others tomorrow.

Showdown Expected Tuesday.

Reports today were that the transit bill will come to a showdown in the senate next Tuesday when amendments will be considered. Its passage is confident all the bills will be passed to final passage on Wednesday without an alteration.

The other Chicago bills occupying attention today, and the action expected were as follows:

House bill 119, by Schnack-enberg, Provides for city construction of Lake Calumet harbor, intended to eliminate usual tax assessments. Passed by senate and sent to governor.

House bill 780, by Igou. Allows school board to add tax assessments without need to keep records open this summer. Passed by senate and sent to governor.

House bill 483, by Weeks. Chicago school board tax bill, authorizing $27,000,000 educational fund to be used in 1929 and 1930. Advanced to third reading in house.

House bill 489, by Joyce. Permits city of Chicago to issue bonds to sell rights over public buildings.

Passed by senate. New goes to governor.

House bill 38, by Weeks. Allows school board to add water bills to city of Chicago. Recalled for second time in senate and amended to $12,000,000 reduction.

School Board Wins.

Passage of the playground tax antegment warrant bill by the senate in the lower house without any amendment of a fight were hailed by the Chicago board of education as two significant victories.

The board had been expected,

STOCKS DROP,
MILLIONS IN PROFITS VANISHWall St. Fears Rise in Bank Rate.

BY FRED HARVEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, May 22.—[Special.]—

Alarm over the likelihood of an advance in the federal reserve bank re-discount rate as a result of the federal reserve advisory council's recommendation, caused a bad break in the stock market today.

Selling was broad and heavy, and prices were driven down from $12 to $11 3/4. Ninety-four separate issues dropped to new lows for the year.

Paper Values Vanish.

Stocks of the type of General Electric, Baldwin Locomotive, Westinghouse, New York Central, and U. S.

Steel dropped from 5 to 10 points in the day. General Electric slumped 12 and Baldwin 15. General opinion in the stock exchange was that no special cause operated to effect any of these drops, but that they were due, just as the reaction in general, to the fear of the increase in the redemptive rate.

Millions of dollars in paper values were wiped out in today's session. Six leading stocks show these declines:

The first figure showing estimated loss on the day and the second showing estimated loss from the year's high mark:

General Motors, $212,000,000 $204,750,000

General Electric, $4,527,000 187,490,544

U. S. Steel, $2,151,011 270,335,389

W. P. Carey, $2,451,000 20,350,000

Union Pacific, $1,114,141 27,790,400

Atchafalaya, $1,101,931 26,460,400

A total of 531 stocks were traded in during the day. Of these 429 sold off, against only 87 showing a net advance for the day. One authority puts the paper value slump of this single day at over two billion dollars.

Market Leaders Join Stamp.

The big losers, included a host of railroad shares which have been conspicuously strong and active since the announcement of the Supreme court decision in the O'Fallon valuation case.

That the discount rate is certain to rise to 6 per cent seemed to be accepted by the majority of traders as a fact.

Many expect the announcement to come at tomorrow's meeting of a reserve bank directors. Gov. George

L. Harrison and Chairman Gates W.

McGraw of the local institution, were in Washington today conferring with

Roy A. Young of the federal reserve board, and Ogden L. Mills, undersecretary of the treasury, and alarmists of the street could read nothing else into the report than that the fate of the so-

William P. Rend II, son of Joseph

P. Rend, wealthy coal dealer, was yesterday sued for divorce in the Superior court by Mrs. Kathryn Prest

Rend, known as one of Chicago's most attractive matrons. Mrs.

Rend charges habitual drunkenness.

Rend, who is 20 years old, is a grandson of Col. William P. Rend, founder of the W. P. Rend Coal company, the W. P. Rend Transportation company, and the Standard Hocking

Coal company. He is a graduate of Yale. Since his graduation he has been an official in the companies headed by his father.

Made Debut in 1922.

Mrs. Rend is a daughter of Francis

C. Prest of Glenview. She made her debut in 1922 and was hailed as one of the prettiest and most popular debutantes of the season. She was an active member of the Junior league.

Since her marriage she has figured in amateur theatricals in social circles.

The Rends were married in an elopement in December, 1922. The ceremony was performed in the Holy Name cathedral shortly after Rend procured

a license. The couple left immediately after for St. Louis.

The elopement came as a surprise.

Although the couple had been frequently together, neither of their families knew that their acquaintance had reached the romantic stage. Rend announced the marriage as they boarded a train for St. Louis. On their return the couple made their home at

Two bomb explosions followed by fire early this morning wrecked two trucks of the Good Humor Ice Cream company, 4449 Armitage avenue, smashed windows in the company's plant and in nearby dwellings, and tore down telephone and light wires in the neighborhood. The blasts aroused residents in many parts of the northwest side.

The damage was estimated at $2,500.

The Good Humor company took over the Armitage avenue plant, recently occupied by the Keystone Dairy company, about three weeks ago, the Cra-plin police were told. The ice cream company operates a fleet of 30 small trucks which serve stores, street trade, and recreation places. Several of the trucks were parked in the street on the Kilpatrick avenue side of the building when the bombs were placed under two of them.

Thomas J. Brimer, president of the company, said he knew of no reason why his trucks should be the targets of bombers. The police were investigating theories of business rivalry and

ALLIES AGREE TO FURTHER CUT OF REPARATIONS

Rate of Settlement Now in Germans' Hands.

BULLETIN.
BERLIN, May 23.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Voegler, colleague of Dr. Brüning, has announced to the experts' conference on reparations at Paris, today. The German government will accept his resignation.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, May 23.—An agreement on reparations seems assured tonight as the terms of the allies' reply to the German reservation to Owen D. Young's compromise figures became known. The final move is now up to the German experts.

The creditor nations have agreed to postpone the transfer of payments in order to grant a safeguard against the possibility of a second emergency. The allies also agreed to postpone the transfer of payments in order to grant a safeguard against the possibility of a second emergency. The allies also agreed to postpone the transfer of payments in order to grant a safeguard against the possibility of a second emergency.

The promise is given by the allies to make whatever funds the German government require for new financing a loan to the status of a second mortgage. The lien of $1,100,000,000 on German industrial enterprises is to be lifted.

New German Delegate Quits.
Despite rumors that the second German delegate, Dr. Albert Voegler, intended to resign and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht to proceed to Berlin, a confidentially expected that a solution of the German proposals would be reached by the allies will be found and that Germany will accept. Dr. Voegler is known to have insisted on a much more lenient plan than now in sight. The chief obstacle now is the German demand that the engagement be extended, making the new plan operative as from last April. The allies met this proposal, pointing out that they know how long the government will require to ratify the agreement as well as establish an international bank to supersede the Dawes plan. They state that they would be able to reconcile their figures only by counting upon a continuance of the annual payments of $85,000,000 when the Dawes plan until January 1, 1930, next spring.

The creditors also propose that Germany pay an additional $5,000,000 to reimburse Belgium's claim for money which Germany circulated in paper money during the wartime occupation, and which Germany has never repaid. Mr. Young's covering of this claim and urged the bank to accept it.

Bankers to Handle Transfers.
The transfer of reparations money to be handled by a subcommittee composed of officers of the international bank who will examine the situation in Germany at any time Berlin makes it impossible to make transfers for payments. Since Dr. Schacht has already suggested such a plan, it is believed this will be agreeable. An international committee of railway experts has been suggested for the purpose of estimating the most amount required by the German government for their new financing and the amount will take the form of a loan before the $2,013,000,000 reparations which the Dawes plan imposed. This is aimed at keeping the German from becoming a political liability.

Here on Way to Coast

Irene Bordoni, actress, spent five hours in Chicago yesterday en route to Hollywood, where she will make a talkie.

Although E. Ray Goetz, her husband, has attempted to serve her with divorce papers ever since the famous night in January when he rained her home and she threw a statuette at one of his helpers, he has never been able to catch her in one place long enough to serve them, she said yesterday, at the La Salle street station, adding that if she ever "got through with him" she would never marry again.

Irene wore a new carpet weave traveling dress, tiny black hat, black pumps with silver bands, and with a half dozen orchids on her shoulder.

54 YEAR FOOD FEUD LIVES ON IN FUN TODAY

Fifty-four years ago this summer there was a near panic among Chicago parents over the extravagance of the younger set, especially the set that comprised the members of the Summer Literary society. Papers and magazines were appalled at a movement in the organization to have dinners at fifty cents a plate served at its meetings at the Hotel Sherman. Two factions, the Grubs and the Anti-Grubs, resulted. The former was for the 50 cent meal while the other group opposed it.

Remaining members of the two dissenting factions will gather on Saturday night for their annual renewal of the ancient battle at the Sherman. Among those who will be present to talk over old times and old associations will be John E. Wilkie, formerly head of the United States secret service; Horace S. Oakley, Edward L. Roche, "The Great Bookworm" of Radio; "The Great Bookworm" of Radio; E. Slosson, secretary and moving spirit of the Summer society.

"Fifty cents a plate," and that included wine. Now we pay $2.50 without a drop of wine. But I still stand with the Grubs."

H. W. CALDWELL RE-ELECTED HEAD OF SCHOOL BOARD

Brandenburg to Continue as Vice President.

H. Wallace Caldwell was unanimously re-elected president of the board of education for the coming year at the board's annual meeting yesterday. Reflected with him was Walter H. Brandenburg, who has served as vice president during Mr. Caldwell's year in office.

No other names were placed in nomination for the offices. James A. Hemingway, rumored at various times as a possible candidate for either the presidency or the vice presidency, nominated Mr. Caldwell after praising his administration. Mr. Brandenburg was nominated by Trustee Oscar Durante.

Hold Up Appointments

Appointments of committee chairmen will await the naming of three new trustees to fill vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Trustees J. Lewis Oath and Charles J. Vopicka, and the resignation last year of Dr. Otto L. Schmidt. The appointments will not be made until the board meets tomorrow night at the board's tax increasing measure, is settled in the legislature.

According to one member of the board, the naming of the new trustees has been deliberately delayed in order that there might be no chance of a break in the unanimous reelection of Mr. Caldwell.

Before casting her vote for Mr. Caldwell, Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, trustee, demanded that he restate his position regarding political influence in the school system. Citing the teacher's situation, long a bone of contention between the school board and politicians who have regarded the positions of clerks in schools as political plums, Mrs. Hefferan told the board that some such statement by the president was necessary to create public confidence in the school board.

Wants Board to Take Stand.
"I am as all times subject to the wishes of the trustees," Mr. Caldwell replied. "However, I feel that such a statement should come from the board as a whole rather than from the president."

Mrs. Hefferan also asked that Superintendent William J. Bogan appoint two members of the educational department to confer with Mr. Charles A. Ames, president of the civil service commission, regarding the addition of a clause in the qualifications of school clerks making only normal school graduates eligible. She also submitted a draft of a bill for presentation in the legislature at the present session to create a special civil service board for school board positions. The resolution will be considered at a special meeting of the board tomorrow.

Protest Closing of Schools

Proceeding the election a delegation of fifty parents in the districts served by the Peck and Hale elementary schools, which were ordered closed last week after they had been declared unsafe, called upon the president to protest against conditions since the closing of the schools. According to John J. Wartel, 6142 South Mansfield avenue, the Hale school district is accused by a report that the condemnation of the building was actuated by interests desirous of turning over the property to the city as an adjunct of the municipal airport.

PLANNERS PROPOSE A STREET CAR ENTRY TO NEW LAKE FRONT

Provisions for a street car entrance to the lake front may be contained in a supplementary plan which it is considered likely that the Chicago Plan commission will submit, it was learned yesterday. Members of the commission held a conference with representatives of the Illinois Central railroad, the Lincoln, and south park boards, at which the revised lake front ordinance was discussed. The present ordinance does not provide for a street car entrance, although the old plan provided for one at Roosevelt road.

The support of the plan commission will be given to the ordinance as a result of the meeting, it was said. The ordinance, which provides for a new Illinois Central suburban station at Randolph street, the new bridge at the mouth of the river, and the general development of the lake front, is now in the hands of the council committee on railway terminals.

THREE CHILDREN KILLED BY AUTOS; TOLL IS NOW 290

Three children were killed in automobile accidents yesterday. The deaths raised the 1929 Cook county motor toll to 290.

Allice Schindler, 4 years old, 4460 North Kedzie avenue. Killed by an automobile in an alley at the rear of her home. Her body was found by Robert Walters, a driver for the Gordon Baking company. He was held by the Albany Park police, who doubted his story, but was later exonerated by a coroner's jury. Despite this verdict, he was booked by the police for manslaughter.

Anthony Ingrata, 8 years old, 9633 Avenue M. Killed when he ran in front of a motorcycle driven by Ludwig Reider, 298 West 19th street, Whiting, Ind., at 56th street and Avenue M.

John Schwenden, 6 years old, 3140 North Damen avenue. Fatally injured by an automobile while crossing Ridge-way avenue at Elston avenue. He died at the Montrose hospital. The car was driven by Joseph Berger, 8106 North Francisco avenue. The boy was taken to the hospital by Patrick J. Egan, chief of the fire prevention bureau.

Fights Merger of Chicago and Western Seminaries

Omaha, Neb., May 23.—(AP)—The proposed merger of the Western Theological seminary, maintained by the United Lutheran church at Fremont, Neb., with the Chicago seminary, today was opposed by the Rev. S. F. Martin, president of the Fremont institution, in a report to the convention of the Nebraska synod of the church. Dr. Martin favored keeping the seminary west of the Mississippi river.

PAY TO EXPERTS' BY CITY FOUND DOUBLE IN APRIL

Vouchers Reveal Jump in Payments.

Payments to the city hall "experts" showed a large increase for April over the preceding month, according to the list of vouchers sent to the city clerk yesterday. The amount expended for the services of the "experts" and others who are paid by vouchers totaled $115,990 for the month, while the March payments were approximately one-half of that sum.

The list shows that thirty-two of the "experts" received a total of $45,536 for their services. On the March list there were only twenty-two men who drew a total of $33,717 showing an increase of $11,819 that the treasury was forced to hand out during last month. Country judges, medical services, and other items raised the voucher payments in April to the $115,990 mark.

The "experts" and the amounts vouchered to each in April are as follows:

LEGAL SERVICES.
Frank H. Hall, $5,000; Martin Wahl, 1,000; J. G. Driscoll, 1,915; A. H. Vonder, 1,000; T. J. Sheehan, 1,400; Chapman, 2,000; Sidney Levy, 1,000; Cullen, 2,500; S. F. Goldstein, 2,300; J. J. Sullivan, 2,400; Sam Golan, $3,000.

GOVERNOR GETS PLAYGROUND AND HARBOR BILLS

Transit Measure Put on First Reading.

by the house, the city could have issued unlimited amounts of bonds without a referendum. Last week Senator Thomas J. Courtney succeeded in attacking an amendment limiting the amount to $12,000,000 and the time to July 1, 1931. The bill then was advanced. Yesterday the Thompsons had it called back, the amendment stricken out, and again advanced. Today it was recalled again and the $12,000,000 amendment once more attached and the bill advanced. The time limit was dropped.

Downstate Revolt.

The overnight change, it was reported, developed out of a downstate revolt against the combination of the Chicago city hall forces, led by Senator Harry W. Starr, and the upper house group, headed by Senator Richard J. Barr.

Senators J. S. Cuthbertson and James J. Barbour led the revolt, insisting upon recall of the measure in the face of emphatic protests from Starr.

"The thing has come to put safe guards around all expenditures by municipalities," Barbour asserted. "They are running wild with the taxpayer's money and the people want to know when this business of borrowing to the last nickel is going to stop."

Battle Is Given Up.

On Senator Starr's motion to table Cuthbertson's motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was advanced, a standing vote showed 18 for reconsideration and 13 against. Among the Chicagoans voting with Starr were Senators Edward J. Hughes, Adolph Marks, Lowell R. Mason, Frank McDermott, Adolph H. Roberts, and Roy O. Woods. There was no roll call on the amendment itself when it was presented later in the day. The Thompson factions apparently having given up the fight after observing the switch in sentiment.

Chagrined by the setback on the water bonds, the Thompson city hall followers gained a little consolation when the city air rights bill went over a few minutes later by a unanimous vote. Under this bill the city plans to sell the air rights and permit the erection of skyscrapers over such buildings as the Chicago avenue water station, the library building on Michigan avenue between Randolph and Washington streets, and several downtown are stations.

Harbor Fight Ends Mildly.

One of the most spectacular struggles of the present session came to a rather mild termination with the adoption of the Schnackenberg Lake Calumet harbor bill.

The Day in Springfield

SENATE.

Advanced-Weber-O'Grady bill for prohibition referendum to third reading, setting it as special order Wednesday, June 5.

Chicago transit bills, approved by utilities committee placed on calendar. Passed-Igoe house bill to allow Chicago school board to issue playground tax anticipation warrants. Schnackenberg house Lake Calumet harbor bill with tax feature eliminated; O'Neill house bills limiting payment of attorney's fees in divorce cases.

Judiciary committee killed King anti-klan bill.

Labor committee recommended house bill to allow boxing bouts to go fifteen rounds.

Chicago water bond bill recalled and amended with $12,000,000 restriction.

Defeated Boehm bill to legalize under state law 3 per cent malt tonics already permitted by federal prohibition department.

Defeated Woods bill to permit beauty culturists to cut hair.

Senator Courtney introduced bill against double pay rolls prohibiting legislators to draw pay from any governmental agency except state or from corporations under state regulation.

HOUSE.

Killed O'Neill women's eight hour bill.

Passed-Sullivan bill to exempt Chicago Curb association securities from provisions of blue sky law.

Advanced-Chicago school board tax boost bill to final passage stage without discussion.

Advanced-Cook county civil service bill to third reading with Democrats aligned against it.

Attorney Sidney Gorham had Senator A. S. Cuthbertson introduce bill to create commission to study proposed for Supreme court to make rules for lower courts.

Passed Green resolution for state battle to take control of medical liquor, etc., away from congress.

Adopted motion to table all bills not out of committee by next Tuesday.

Branson committee made futile effort to get T. J. Crowe as witness in double pay roll inquiry.

Also adoption of the Schnackenberg Lake Calumet harbor bill.

Looking forward to a $4,000,000 income in four years, the city had asked in the original bill for a 1/4 mill city-wide harbor tax. This was knocked out in the house by a close vote and the measure went on its way with its teeth drawn.

As sent to Gov. Emmerson, the bill clears up the city's riparian rights to the lake, eliminates objectionable industrial site lease features, and gives the way for digging of the harbor with private capital under supervision.

What will happen to the Cook county civil service bill appeared to be problematical following its advancement in the house with a new amendment, inserting the eight months blanket clause. The amendment aroused hostility among the Democrats, who now control the county building, and indications were they will vote solidly against the bill when it is called up for final action.

WOMAN DIES ON BUS.

Mrs. W. W. Cornelius, 45 years old, 2359 Warren avenue, died suddenly, supposedly of heart disease, yesterday while riding on a Warren avenue motor coach near her home.

SENATE BARS FLOOR PRIVILEGE TO MEN OF PRESS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—Press association representatives were barred from the senate floor today as a result of a renewal of the controversy over publication of the secret roll call vote confirming the appointment of former Senator L. L. Leavelle to a federal judgeship.

The action withdrawing the privilege of the floor from all press association reporters followed shortly after the senate's rules committee voted unanimously to bar representatives of the press from the floor.

The action, charged with having published the story and to summon the reporter responsible for the story to appear before the committee next Monday. The reporter, it was asserted, may face contempt proceedings if he declines to reveal the source of his information.

The committee's action was reported to the senate by Senator D. A. Reed (Rep., Pa.), with a resolution censuring the unknown senator or senators employed who disclosed the roll call.

Charges Unfairness.

Senator R. M. La Follette (Rep., Wis.), after objecting to immediate consideration of the resolution, demanded to know the committee's authority for excluding the press.

"As I view it, the reporter violated no ethics of his profession nor any rule of the senate in obtaining a legitimate news story wherever he could obtain it. So far as the reporter's obligations are concerned, they are discharged if he honestly and fairly reports the public business."

A few minutes later Senator La Follette observed another news service reporter on the floor and leaped to his feet, interrupting a speech by Senator R. B. Howell (Rep., Neb.), to demand that the sergeant at arms be instructed to escort the reporter out of the chamber.

After considerable discussion, Vice President Curtis sustained the point of order and announced that while news service reporters have been accorded the privilege of the floor "by courtesy for half a century or more," the rule specifying the persons entitled admission will be rigidly enforced in the future.

After the senate adjourned, the press association representatives were barred from the floor.

The Wisconsin senator read the senate rule which strictly limits the floor privileges to senators, senate employees, the President, cabinet members, members of the house and other high officials of this and foreign governments, and declared that if the rules committee attempted to enforce its decision barring the one association's representatives, he would violate the rule against reporters for other services.

"A great wrong is being done here," asserted Senator La Follette, "merely because an employee of a press service has printed a story of public business, even if it was transacted in an executive session. These newspapermen take no oaths to abide by the senate rules."

HOUSE GROUP FOR BOOSTS IN CHICAGO TAXES

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—(Special.)—Four bills intended to extract millions of dollars from the pockets of Chicago and Cook county taxpayers were approved today by the house revenue committee. "There already have been passed by the senate."

The measures recommended were senate bills 48, 51, and 54, and house bill 179. All will go on first reading in the house tomorrow.

Senate bill 48, introduced by Senator John Denvir, provides for a tax of 1-100 of a mill for ten years and 1-125 of a mill thereafter for the house of correction employees' pension fund.

Senate bill 51, sponsored by Senator Lowell B. Mason, increases the tax for playgrounds from 1-50 of a mill to 1/4 of a mill. Senate bill 54, also by Senator Mason, would allow the county board to submit to a referendum bonds for airports and to levy taxes in the amounts needed to redeem them.

The house bill was that by Rep. Henry Sonnenstein to allow the county board a six cent tax increase for 1929 to tide it over until the reassessment is finished. Such a boost would give the board an extra $2,450,000 in revenue this year. The committee approved an amendment limiting the provisions of the bill to Cook and St. Clair counties.

Sues to Present Ex-Wife
from Annoying Him

Henry Mittelberger, 33 years old, a real estate dealer with offices at 100 North La Salle street, yesterday filed a petition in the Circuit court to enjoin his former wife, Mrs. Anne Mittelberger of the Moraine hotel, from annoying him with telephone calls.

The bill, drawn by Attorney Julius H. Miner, charges the former wife with threatening his present wife, Evelyn, to promote a remarriage.

Mittelberger married his first wife in New Braunfels, Tex., in 1925. She secured a divorce on charges of cruelty on May 4, 1928. Two weeks later he married Evelyn Lyon at Niagara Falls.

Such a boost would give the board an extra $2,450,000 in revenue this year. The committee approved an amendment limiting the provisions of the bill to Cook and St. Clair counties.

HOUSE GROUP FOR BOOSTS IN CHICAGO TAXES

HOUSE FOR TEST OF AUTHORITY TO CONTROL LIQUOR

But Senators Dampen
Hope of Wets.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—A bill intended to put out of business every theater ticket agency in Chicago and to abolish street ticket scalping, passed the house of representatives tonight by a unanimous vote.

It now goes to the senate. Representative Albert J. Mancini of Chicago introduced the measure, which makes it a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment for any one to sell a ticket for more than the price printed on its face.

When the bill was explained tonight by Representative Mancini its drastic provisions were brought out. Teeth were put into the measure by an amendment. As amended and passed it read as follows:

"Whoever sells, barter, or exchanges any tickets of admission to any place of entertainment or amusement, for a price greater than is charged for such tickets at the box office or place of admission of such place of entertainment or amusement, or for a sum greater than is advertised or printed upon such tickets as the admission charge, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

The penalty provided is a fine not to exceed $500 or jail sentence not to exceed one year, or both.

Dog with Rabies Bites Two Boys in Hammond

A dog suffering from rabies bit two Hammond (Ind.) children yesterday afternoon while police were pursuing it. Le Roy Dechantel, 9 years old, and Orville Bridgegroom, 4 years old, were playing in front of the Bridgegroom home when the animal leaped on them. An examination of the dog revealed rabies. The boys were given the Pasteur treatment.

ON WAY TO STAR

MRS. AL JOLSON.

Mrs. Ruby Keeler Jolson, wife of Al Jolson, stopped in Chicago between trains yesterday on her way to New York where she will appear in Ziegfeld's "Show Girl" as a dancer. With Mrs. Jolson were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crawford. Mr. Crawford is the literary manager of the Fox Film company, and Mrs. Crawford is a graduate of the Sean High school.

Wine Tonic Distributed.
The argument in favor of the Green resolution ran from the extremely serious pleading of its author, Representative Roy J. Jull, of Chicago, and a few others, to the antics of Representative Thomas J. O'Grady, one of the leaders of the Chicago wets, who produced two bottles of 18 per cent wine tonic he had bought in a Springfield drug store and distributed free samples to all comers to show that prohibition enforcement is a joke.

There were only two brief speeches against the resolution. F. W. Lewis of Robinson, who said he never has taken a drop in his life, was inclined to admit that congress has usurped powers not given it by the eighteenth amendment, but said he considered that usurpation necessary for the better enforcement of the amendment. And M. P. Rice, a veteran from Lewis-town, protested that the state should not be asked to bear the expense of a Supreme court battle that could be carried on by private interests.

Grover C. Edwards brought into the discussion a phase of the present situation that has not been mentioned in the Springfield battles heretofore. He charged that the industries of Illinois requiring alcohol in their operations are being so restricted in obtaining it that their success is threatened.

Representative Green's basic argument was that congress possesses only those police powers that have been granted to it by the states, and that in connection with liquor the states conveyed only concurrent jurisdiction over the manufacture, sale, and transportation of intoxicating liquor used for beverage purposes, that the question of congressional control over medicinal liquor, sacramental wine, industrial alcohol, and nonintoxicating beverages never has been submitted in any amendment to the legislatures of the states.

Court Decisions Quoted.
He then went into the discussion of United States Supreme court decisions in prohibition cases, quoting from majority findings to show that four of the nine justices upheld in advance the contentions of his resolution. The majority decisions he branded as entirely different rulings will be obtained from a majority of the court if the suit is fought along the lines he proposed.

"I warn you dyes on the floor and you dyes in the gallery," he said, "that if we see a continuation of slaughter throughout the land such as we saw in the De King case, in Aurora, you will bring the nation to the same point to which it was brought by the Dred Scott case."

Hypocrisy Will Be Neglected.
"We are going to continue our battle to recover for this nation the liberty to which it is entitled. If you continue to pass laws like the Jones 5 and 10 law and continue this same hypocrisy on the floor of this assembly and on the floor of the congress you are going to create a situation that you'll be sorry for."

He said that Illinois should hang its head in shame over the conduct of one of its congressmen (William F. Holladay), when the shooting of a 21 year old boy was celebrated as something to be praised and commended.

"The adoption of this resolution the institution of this suit," he said in concluding, "means a step by orderly method to wipe from the statute of the country the cowardly unjustifiable usurpation of powers not conveyed by the eighteenth amendment."

O'Grady displayed two bottles, one labeled "sherry wine tonic," and the other "port wine tonic," made in California and labeled as containing "not over 18 per cent alcohol."

"This will show you the law is hypocritical," he shouted, "if any of you ever drank port wine taste this and see if it isn't port."

Calvin T. Weeks, of Chicago, was

LAMONT RUNNING OUT OF EXCUSES FOR NOT MAKING SPEECHES

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[AP.]—One of the big problems Secretary Lamont finds in running the department of commerce is thinking up good reasons for not making speeches.

This was revealed today by the secretary in addressing the annual convention of the freight claim division of the American Railway association.

"I was in business 30 years," he said, "and nobody ever asked me to make a speech and nobody wanted to hear me speak. But now that I have acquired a government position, I receive on an average three requests a day to display my lack of ability along speech making lines."

"One of my greatest difficulties," he declared, "is trying to find plausible excuses for declining these invitations."

first in the rush. Borders and a few others followed. They sustained O'Grady's analysis.

"This house will be in order," called Speaker Shanahan. "This does not constitute discussion of the resolution."

"And," went on O'Grady, "the drugist gave me a tip. He said there was a little medicine in this bottle if I'd pour it out into a glass and let it settle then pour it out slowly into another glass except for half an inch the medicine would be all gone and I'd have real port."

"It's on sale in drug stores throughout the state but they break into the homes of poor Italians and Germans who have been used to a little wine all their lives and send them to jail for making a little for their own use."

Jull pointed out that the expense of the suit would be slight in contrast to "the $24,000,000 a year spent in the vain effort to enforce prohibition on the present basis."

The condition of Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, who is seriously ill at her home, 4901 Ellis avenue, was reported as unchanged by her attending physicians last night. Mrs. Rosenwald has been ill for several weeks. A note of quiet is being maintained around the Rosenwald residence.

CHICAGO TICKET SCALPING BILL PASSES HOUSE

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—A bill intended to put out of business every theater ticket agency in Chicago and to abolish street ticket scalping, passed the house of representatives tonight by a unanimous vote.

It now goes to the senate. Representative Albert J. Mancini of Chicago introduced the measure, which makes it a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment for any one to sell a ticket for more than the price printed on its face.

When the bill was explained tonight by Representative Mancini its drastic provisions were brought out. Teeth were put into the measure by an amendment. As amended and passed it read as follows:

"Whoever sells, barter, or exchanges any tickets of admission to any place of entertainment or amusement, for a price greater than is charged for such tickets at the box office or place of admission of such place of entertainment or amusement, or for a sum greater than is advertised or printed upon such tickets as the admission charge, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

The penalty provided is a fine not to exceed $500 or jail sentence not to exceed one year, or both.

SUPPLY OF PAPER EXCEEDS DEMAND, PUBLISHERS TOLD

Col. McCormick Discusses Costs of Newsprint.

Newsprint paper costs are governed by the law of supply and demand and at present there is more supply than demand, Col. E. E. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, stated yesterday at the meeting of the Inland Daily Press association, Fred Schlipf, publisher of the Daily Times at St. Cloud, Minn., discussed the possibilities of cornstarch pulp newsprint.

Voting on a resolution which declares the "purchase of newspapers by interests affiliated or identified with the power or newspaper industries is contrary to sound publishing policy and sound journalistic policy and a menace to the freedom of the press of the United States" was postponed until the October meeting.

Shows Cost of Newsprint.
In 1928 the Tribune paid $43 a ton for newsprint, Col. McCormick said, and now with its own paper mill the actual cost of producing newsprint is $47 a ton, with no allowance for depreciation, fire insurance, profit or interest, with no sales force, no credit, or collection department, and no bad debts. The investment in mills, machinery, land, docks, and steamboats is equal to $120 per ton per year, so that if a 10 per cent profit were added to the cost, the price of newsprint at the mill would be $59 per ton.

Two Tribune went into newsprint manufacturing because it was being charged $7 a ton more than another newspaper had to pay, Col. McCormick said. It established its mill in Canada, buying power instead of leasing near a waterfall and building a hydro-electric plant. The power cost is now $4 per ton of newsprint.

The increased consumption of newsprint, Col. McCormick continued, and in 1928 the price rose because the demand was greater than the supply. This situation proved all

WALSH CLAIMS LAW NOT COMPLIED WITH BY "POWER" PAPERS

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(U.P.)—A resolution to submit to the attorney general for such action as he may decide to take, the statements of ownership and circulation of the newspapers mentioned in testimony before the federal trade commission as having sold an interest in the International Paper and Power company was introduced today by Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.), but action was deferred.

Walsh introduced the resolution after he had made an analysis of the statements in which he charged that the law had not been complied with. "These reports," Walsh said, "are far from the truth."

While he did not object to the adoption of the resolution, Senator Walsh (Rep., O.) suggested that action be postponed until tomorrow and the resolution was tabled until then.

Attractive to investors and mill after mill was erected and for a few years they were highly profitable. Each mill had an allotment of timber land which at first seemed to be inexhaustible. A few years ago the end of the allotment came in sight, but there are still more commitments for new mills, he said.

In 1921 the Tribune felt that the erection of paper mills was being overdone and did not increase its possibilities of output, Col. McCormick explained. He said he believed natural conditions would enable this newspaper to buy what it needed at competitive and low prices. At present, he pointed out, the demand is equal to but 75 per cent of the supply, and consequently the mills are operating at but 75 per cent of capacity.

Discusses Reformation.
When asked about the outlook for a stabilized price of newsprint, Col. McCormick said he could not tell, but that the law of supply and demand would undoubtedly always govern. He was asked about reforestation and he said it takes 10 years to regrow spruce and that ground spruce or balsam is used for newspaper pulp, the proportion being 85 per cent ground wood and 15 per cent sulphite—chips reduced by a chemical process to pulp. The extra 5 per cent is lost in manufacture, he explained.

On the question of a substitute for wood pulp, the publisher said that would come when a chemical pulp could be produced more cheaply, but when that time is coming he could not say. Before wood was used paper was made of rags and other substances, he said. One of the editors present asked if the Tribune did not get a better grade of newsprint than other papers. Col. McCormick said it received a standard grade, but that this grade had to match a sample submitted by the paper.

Sees Cornstarch Paper Coming.

Mr. Schlipf said it has been known for 150 years that paper could be made of cornstarch, but that the starch could not be assembled economically because there were no hard roads. In recent years, however, experiments have been made with cornstarch, and on March 27 an edition of the St. Cloud Times was published on cornstarch paper. It was Mr. Schlipf's opinion that cornstarch pulp will eventually replace wood pulp, and he mentioned a warning by former Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson in 1911 that by 1950 between 15 and 20 million cords of wood would be needed to meet the demand for pulp and that it would be an impossibility to meet the demand.

G. R. Schaeffer, sales promotion manager for Marshall Field & Co., talked to the publishers on high standards in newspaper advertising. Merchants made of State street a great market place, he said, and as a newspaper is a market place for advertising, the buyer, as well as the seller, goes to the best and largest market place.

Col. Robert Dwyer, publisher of the New Orleans States, discussed recent revelations of the acquisition of newspapers or interests in newspapers by the International Paper and Power company. He said the corporation's explanation that it bought only to create a steady market for print paper was not satisfactory, as that would make it both seller and buyer of its product. The real purpose was to control the policies of the papers, he declared.

New Hero's Dish to Dream About

Men eat rice pudding at Thompson's who refuse to let it from their own cooks. Why? There's no secret. Only one small Louisiana district produces the kind of rice Thompson's uses. Flaming, nutty grains—each separate, not soggy. Fresh milk from Thompson's dairy. New country eggs—plenty of 'em. Seasoned and cooked with jealous care. Served with pure, rich cream.

Thirty-eight years ago, John R. Thompson made those two words his inflexible rule.

Save by buying in quantity direct from producers. It requires large supplies of many kinds of food to serve 130,000 meals each day in Thompson's 123 restaurants. As a result Thompson's can buy at low prices which few middlemen can equal.

Spend by putting these savings into highest quality. The finest ingredients in bakery goods. Selected meats. Soundest, freshest vegetables. Purest dairy products. No slighting of quality anywhere... no substitutes of any kind.

This policy explains why patrons comment on the excellence of Thompson's foods... never complain about prices. It explains why Thompson's Restaurants are regarded as an outstanding institution of public service.)

LENIENCY URGED FOR EDITOR WHO ESCAPED PRISON

Friends Act; Extradition Petition on Way.

ST. KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

When the governor of Illinois says he will make formal demand on him today or tomorrow for Robert Elliott Burns, escaped convict, will settle the matter of the war veteran who spent several profitable years in business in Chicago before his past tripped him up at the law. A Georgia patrolman is on his way here with extradition papers that may return Burns to the chain gang.

Attorney John E. Echols, who represented Robert Elliott Burns in 1923 when the latter, a friendly, hungry hobo, was tried and convicted for robbery, today told a story which he said strikingly illustrated the man's high sense of honor.

"At the end of his month, Burns fell in with bad company and agreed to the robbery," said Echols. "When he was arraigned he was so ragged it was necessary for him to borrow a shirt. As a consequence of writing a statement which the judge remarked upon for its intelligence and appeal, Burns was given a lighter sentence than his companions."

"After serving less than four months of his sentence Burns escaped. I was not, of course, paid a fee for representing Burns when he appeared in court and I had forgotten the matter. But he didn't forget. Two months after he escaped he wrote a letter to Sheriff Lowry, enclosing $50 and asking that it be given to me."

Really Men Befriend Him. Among those reported to be interested in his behalf were Henry Elmore, president of the many district George F. Nixon, Henry Elmore, Alex Lundquist, and William Elmhurst, real estate operators, and Chris Paschen, building commissioner.

Carl Smith, former advocate general of the American Legion, and W. J. Swenson, adjutant of the E. H. Lawrence post, were also in court to do what they could for Burns.

Two views of the case were presented yesterday. One was given by Burns' lawyers, Cameron Latta and Morris Kaplan, to Judge Joseph David, who refused to admit the prisoner to bail, though he said that executive clemency seemed in his opinion to be warranted. The other view was that of Mrs. Emily Pacheco Burns, accused of having betrayed her husband to Georgia authorities when she learned he was living at a north side apartment hotel with a younger woman, Miss Lillian Sala.

Two Sides of Picture. In the courtroom Burns was represented as having been doubly victimized by his wife, who is thirteen years his senior. She first learned of his secret through reading his mail when he was rooming at her home and forced him to marry her to purchase her silence, the lawyers charged.

At her home, 6444 Ingleside avenue, Burns was described by his wife as innately bad, a gambler, a hard drinker, and an inconstant husband. They first met, she said, while she was working at the Polk street station. The wife denied that she had informed police of Burns' whereabouts, declaring she still was fond of him.

BLAUL MAY HEAD POLICE IN OFFICE OF PROSECUTOR

Lieut. William V. Blaul, head of the police sponge squad during the Democratic regime of Mayor William E. Dever, is slated to succeed Sergt. Thomas O'Malley as chief of the detective force in the state's attorney's office, it was reported yesterday as it became known that O'Malley had asked to be relieved of his detail on June 1.

O'Malley, a holdover from the administration of Robert E. Crowe, and many other detectives in the same class, are expected to make their exit in a general shakeup announced for the first of the month, when the prosecutor's staff is to be increased to forty or more men. At present the office has about twenty detectives assigned to duty.

Out goes the light... in comes the moon... tired... big day tomorrow... have to get up—early... ho-hum... sleep!

Morning! Eyes pop open. Wide-awake to a new day—and to breakfast!

For no longer is breakfast a daily duty. It's a joyous pleasure. Worth getting up for!

And there it is—your beaming bowl of Heinz Rice Flakes. Eagerly you crunch their nut-like goodness. Satisfied, at last, when your spoon has sought the last sunny flake.

Oh—the "Joy of Living"! Joy indeed. For these gladsome breakfasts bring days full of vigor—free from loginess.

And it's all due to a new, patented Heinz process of cereal-making which transforms the natural roughage element of the rice into a pure cellulose, that provides the healthful effect of a gentle, natural laxative. No other cereal food can offer you this precise quality—for Heinz owns the process.

So good to eat. So good for you to eat.

$150,000 PHONE FUND PROVIDES JUICY JOB LIST

Aldermen Rally Round in Ettelson's Office.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
Corporation Counsel Ettelson has been voted $150,000 by the city council to prosecute litigation for a reduction in telephone rates. In return for their votes for the appropriation, it is reported that a number of aldermen have asked Mr. Ettelson for jobs for their henchmen, which can be created out of the $150,000. Five aldermen were in Mr. Ettelson's office yesterday at one time. They were not seeking legal opinions, although Mr. Ettelson declined to assert they were looking for jobs.

"There is absolutely no foundation for the charge that jobs were promised in exchange for votes for that appropriation," said Mr. Ettelson. "I haven't given any jobs or promised and either before or since the council action. I get many requests for jobs but no one has been put on the $150,000 roll and will not be without the approval of Ald. Jacob M. Arvey (24th), chairman of the committee on city, oil, and electric light, and Aldermen George T. Halght, Edmund D. Adeock, and Benjamin E. Goldstein, the attorneys who are handling the phone litigation."

Another report is that pressure was applied to a number of aldermen who sponsor jobs under the city administration. Some of the job holders told their aldermanic sponsors they would lose their jobs—being temporary employes—if the aldermen did not vote for the $150,000 appropriation. Forty-one aldermen voted for the appropriation and five against it. One of those who opposed it is Ald. William D. Meyer (8th). Asked the reason for his opposition, he replied: "No convincing reason was advanced for the appropriation. I wanted to know from the lawyers who have been handling the case whether there is a chance of winning it and they didn't come before the committee for interrogation. I wanted to know whether the plan outlined was feasible and sound, but couldn't get any information on that point. Nor could I find out whether $150,000 was really needed."

$450,000 Asked at First.
Originally the corporation counsel's office asked for $450,000, and in showing the need for it the law department told how many investigators it would need at $20 a day. The aldermen would not stand for investigators at $20 a day. That request was withdrawn. The next application was for $252,700. This tentative setup for spending that sum was as follows:

- Two real estate valuers at $100 a day.
- Five real valuers at $50 a day.
- Two real valuers at $30 a day.
- Three lawyers at $100 a day.
- Three lawyers at $100 a day.
- Two engineers at $100 a day.
- Four engineers at $50 a day.
- One accountant at $50 a day.
- Five accountants for six months at the rate of $1,000 a year.
- Four stenographers for six months at $2,000 a year.
- Ten investigators for six months at $2,000 a year.

In addition $5,000 was set aside for office equipment, stationery supplies and incidentals.

The sum of money set aside for each group of employees shows that it was contemplated to employ every one of them for 186 days, or half a year. This authorization was passed on May 15, which means that it was intended to give 43 persons employment until Nov. 15.

See Hearing's End in Three Weeks.
Both the corporation counsel's office and the attorneys for the phone company estimated, yesterday, that the rate hearing before the Federal manter in Chicago will be completed in the next three weeks. Thereafter, perhaps four weeks will be required for writing briefs and arguments. The aldermen have not been told what the employees who are to be paid out of the $150,000 will be doing after July 15 until Nov. 15. But it is assumed that the city law department will follow the employment program which it prepared for the $252,700 appropriation, cutting down the number of employees to fit the $150,000 appropriation which was granted.

"It is my purpose to save money instead of spend it," explained Mr. Ettelson yesterday. "I hope that a large part of the appropriation will be conserved. We will not spend any more than is necessary."

"But your last printed setup was for $252,700," it was suggested.

"Some of the aldermen declined to vote for the appropriation unless it was indicated how the money would be spent," replied Mr. Ettelson. "So we made an estimate for them, and necessarily it had to be a guess."

"How did you happen to vote for this 'guess'?" one of the aldermen was asked later.

"I'm sorry that I did, but please don't bring my name now," he replied. "What could I do? You read Ettelson's threat in his open letter to the city council. It said: 'A vote against this appropriation is a vote in the interest of the telephone company and against the interests of the people.' Tag that on an alderman seeking reelection who can't have much of a campaign fund, and see how far he will get."

Lifting Chicago - to the Skies

Electrically Operated Elevators Make Modern Buildings Possible

CHICAGO'S lofty sky-line, a source of pride to its citizens, and a source of wonder to visitors, would vanish if the electric power were withdrawn that lifts and lowers the elevators of the great structures which etch it. And man's ambition, as old as the Tower of Babel, to pierce the skies would be thwarted. Vertical Transportation not only makes modern buildings possible but permits the grouping of conveniences and utilities in a limited area. This concentration creates and safeguards business efficiency, while increasing land values, thereby providing the incentive for taller and finer structures.

In Chicago alone more than 3500 electric passenger elevators serve the public convenience. Many of these operate day and night. Approximately 5,600,000 passengers are carried daily, a total exceeding the daily aggregate of elevated and surface lines, buses and automobiles and other means of horizontal transportation. The use of electric power results in lowering operating costs 10% to 30% as against any other form of elevator service. Today architects and building contractors, before erecting any tall building first consult electrical elevator experts, for the success of the investment depends on 100% elevator service efficiency.

Supplementing the enormous electric passenger elevator service of Chicago is the electric freight elevator service provided by 4,612 freight elevators. These giants of industry lift and lower with swift, silent and dependable efficiency, an amount of tonnage so great as to stagger the imagination. Through this means stores, warehouses and factories effect splendid economies. In further enlarging its usefulness to man, electricity not only gives him a franchise to the skies but by means of hoists takes to him his tools and materials that he may build to dizzy heights.

The modern department store in promoting customer convenience and facilitating sales is installing electric Escalators, as an important adjunct to its electric elevator service. These carry some 8,000 passengers per hour from floor to floor, enabling them to visit a greater number of departments in less time, thereby increasing sales volume to a notable extent.

To appreciate fully how vital a factor electric elevators are to human comfort, convenience and progress visualize a Chicago without this service. What type of hotel, office building or industrial plant would replace the great structures of today, with their acres of floor space, facilities for inter-communication and economies in time and operation? It would require many buildings to provide quarters for the thousands now comfortably housed under one roof. The breaking up of one great unit into many smaller ones would lessen efficiency, impair service and multiply costs. Banish electric elevators from apartment buildings and only the lower floors would be attractive and remunerative.

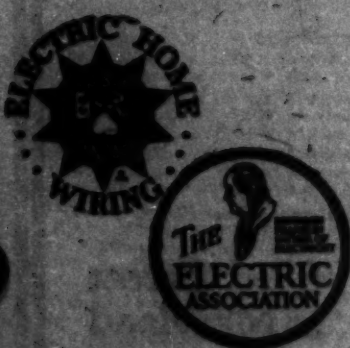

But for electric elevators the Chicago of today would be impossible. Skyscrapers, if built, would represent the refinement of folly and entail financial disaster. The city would increase its area a hundredfold; business would be conducted on lines of less efficiency; economies now in effect would be impossible; land values would depreciate; time would be sacrificed and individual achievement greatly reduced. How many Chicagoans realize when they enter the electric elevator that carries them 800 feet a minute, with 100% safety to their destination—perhaps 30 or more stories above street level—that the little car in which they ride—swift, smooth and noiseless—makes possible much of the present magnificence of the great mid-west metropolis and is the inspiration for dreams of a "City Beautiful" so near to the civic heart.

EXY ASSAILS MUTINEERS ON FLOATING "U"

Faculty Member Backs
Student Revolt.

By HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
May 22.—The mutinous students of the Floating University held their own tonight two withering broadsides from Mrs. Greenble, the president of the university, and Dr. Edward A. Ross, professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin, and a member of the faculty. They gained unexpected support from another faculty member, Dr. Ross, who approved of the revolt after a promise of anonymity before the contract for the cruise stipulated that the faculty members must not give interviews.
The faculty meeting was continuing last night while groups of the students were floating disconsolately in the neighboring cove and wondering, if any, was going to be done to walk the plank.
Faculty Threatened to Quit.
The faculty recruit to the rebel side was Mrs. Greenble, the wife of the president, who was threatened to quit the faculty. The students are dissatisfied due to the interference of Mrs. Greenble, the wife of the president, and they nearly resented her name at Bangkok and were dissatisfied. The cruise was managed and the only reason for the revolt was the behavior of the students.
Mrs. Greenble issued a long statement in reply to the complaints of the students. He devoted many pages to a sarcastic personal attack on James Oliver Curwood Jr. He said the cruise, while in Europe, was entirely in the hands of the International Students' Hospitality association and the mutineers' grievances are due to their impatience with the low standards of living of poor European students. They wanted, he said, a de luxe pleasure trip and are disgruntled because it was serious and educational.

Dr. Ross in a vigorous signed statement, speaking with more academic dignity, said it is impossible to standardize travel accommodations in the far east but that the cruise was wonderfully instructive.

Calls Charges Exaggerated.
New York, May 22.—[Special.]—
"Grossly exaggerated and perfectly ridiculous" was how Ingram Foster, business manager of the Floating University, described reports from Paris of discontent among the student travelers.

"To be perfectly frank," he said,
"some of those things are true, but on the whole they have been very much exaggerated."
"Some of the students were housed twelve in a room in Bangkok, but not twenty. But the room wasn't a room in the ordinary sense of the word. It was more like a huge hall room. It was in the royal palace in Bangkok and was provided by the Siamese government."

Admits a Pir Ship.
"As for the pir ship, when the students embarked at Batavia it was aboard a ship that was carrying pigs.
Unfortunately, the party was too large for the passenger ships there and the only means of transporting them was aboard a big cargo ship.
But there were no pigs on the decks. They all were below hatches.
He since have had a letter from the

In the world's largest office build-

Almost without exception these busy girls say that washing dishes

wash their dishes with Lux.

As Miss Elay Stephens, private secretary to the vice-president of a large company, says:

"I find that Lux in the dishpan keeps my hands looking lovely—and of course in my position it is important that my hands look dainty and well cared for. The Lux suds feel so soothing and bland, and my hands always look smoother and whiter after washing dishes than before. I really like to wash dishes for that reason—for with Lux your hands get beauty care right in the dishpan."

G. O. P. TARIFF STRIFE DUE AT CAUCUS TODAY

House Levy Trades Leave Farmer in Cold.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—Hitter controversy within the Republican ranks is in prospect tomorrow when all members of the majority party in the house meet in caucus to take final action on the tariff program.

Trades which were completed to night among different groups desiring particular duties probably have made possible the approval of a special rule to prevent the offering of any amendments to the tariff bill on the floor of the house except those recommended by the ways and means committee.

Numerous changes in the Hawley bill as originally introduced will be proposed by this committee. The changes are expected to be sufficient to hold in line a controlling majority of the caucus.

Success of Program in Doubt.

There will remain, however, several dissatisfied elements, and upon their willingness to abide by the will of the majority of the party hinges the success of the program in the house.

The big fight in the caucus will come over the plan of the leaders to prevent a vote in the house on the increased sugar duties. Members from sugar belt states tonight appeared confident they would be able to control in the caucus. More than 40 Republicans from 17 states, at a conference held today, agreed to stand pat on the 5 cent duty on full duty sugar as carried in the Hawley bill. They rejected a compromise proposal for a sliding scale of rates which would vary in accordance with fluctuating prices.

Other Industries Hold Club. The sugar group was told that if its members desired to head off an attack on the increased rate on the floor of the house they would have to drop the fight against duties on cement, brick, shingles, and lumber. It was asserted that if they approved the rates on building materials support for the sugar duty would be forthcoming from the Pennsylvania and New York delegations, which are interested in cement and brick. From northwest states which are primarily concerned over shingles, and from other states where lumber industries are located.

Other agricultural groups which are to be benefited by increased rates to be recommended by the ways and means committee also were warned that they must abandon their fight on duties on building material.

Approve Live Stock Weight Clause.

While no announcement was made of changes to be recommended by the committee, it was reported that duties on butter, casein, and dried milk are to be increased above the present rates carried in the original bill and that while the request for higher rates on live cattle have been rejected, the weight limit between the two rates on cattle has been lowered from 1,500 to 800 pounds.

Republicans from states interested in cattle at a conference today approved the reduction in the weight limit, which has the effect of increasing the duty of cattle at a certain weight, but expressed an intention to renew attempts to induce the ways and means committee to increase the present rate also.

Auto Industry Wins.

The Michigan automobile industry together with other industries using alcohol, such as manufacturers of drugs and paints, were reported to have triumphed over Illinois and Iowa corn growers who have been seeking a duty on blackstrap molasses high enough to stimulate the use of corn in the manufacture of alcohol.

The Republican members of the committee were said to have given assurance that the duty on blackstrap would be reduced from 5 cents per gallon as in the Hawley bill to one-sixth of a cent.

The automobile manufacturers, pointing out that more industrial alcohol is used in anti-freeze solutions for automobile radiators than for any other purpose, contended that the 2 cent rate would increase the cost of alcohol by six cents per gallon.

Spokesmen for the corn growers have urged that the duty be increased to 5 cents per gallon, claiming that the 2 cent rate was too small to be of any value in forcing the alcohol manufacturers to turn from molasses to corn.

Confronted by the arguments that costs of automobile users would be increased as well as costs of other alcohol using industries and that if the duty were advanced to eight cents the result would be a development of the synthetic alcohol industry, the committee turned against the corn growers, notwithstanding the latter's insistence that the high rate would provide a market for 40,000,000 bushels of corn.

The automobile manufacturers also are understood to have obtained a promise of a reduction in duty on plate glass used for automobile wind shields. The trade involving hides, leather and shoes continued to give trouble, but there seemed to be acquiescence that all would be taken care of with duties probably at 10, 15, and 20 per cent respectively.

The principal speech during today's tariff debate in the house was by Representative James M. Beck (Rep., Wis.), former collector general, who denounced the flexible tariff system in a manner which held the attention of an unusually large attendance of members.

Doubts Legality of New Section.

Mr. Beck indicated disagreement with the decision of the supreme court upholding the present flexible tariff provisions, but thought it doubtful that the new section which substitutes a more general formula for the present requirement for ascertainment of differences in costs of production before increasing or decreasing duties.

Contending that the constitution was so framed as to prevent the vesting of authority over taxation in the hands of any individual, Mr. Beck asserted that the flexible tariff gave such broad power to the President as to permit an unscrupulous man to favor or destroy industries.

He warned the protectionists in the house that if a low tariff Democrat ever reaches the White House, they may expect to have protection broken down by a series of executive orders.

Denounces Flexible System.

Mr. Beck denounced the flexible system as representing "a momentous and utterly indefensible change in the character of our government."

Adding from this provision, Mr. Beck said he approved the rest of the bill, with the possible exception of the increased duty on sugar.

Conferees of the senate and house on the farm relief bill continued in deadlock over the debenture provision of the senate measure.

The senate conferees threw out a suggestion that the Democrats in the house should attempt to obtain a vote on the debenture plan as part of a motion to recommit the tariff bill.

$200<sup>00</sup> for Two Hundred Words

$500 in cash prizes including a first prize of $200 will be paid for the best 19 letters of approximately 200 words about the Harris Trust Savings and Life Insurance Plan. Anyone, except employees or members of their families, is eligible to receive these cash prizes.

We are convinced that there is no better plan on which to build toward financial independence. We want the opinion of the man or woman who will study the plan or those who have already enjoyed its benefits.

The plan is flexible enough to suit the purpose of anyone whether his earnings are large or small. And it combines insurance with sound investment and saving in such a way as to make it suitable for a wide variety of purposes.

The plan has already met with a full measure of success.

The winning letters will be selected by a committee appointed by officers of the Bank. Prizes will be distributed as follows: 1st prize $200, 2nd prize $100, 3rd prize $50, 4th prize $35, 5th prize $20, 6th to 10th prizes $10 each, 11th to 19th prizes $5 each.

Letters must arrive before midnight of June 15th.

One thing

you have in common with the Seller of Automobiles

OUTWARDLY your product may have little in common with a high-priced motor car. But beneath their surface differences lies one vital similarity when it comes to finding customers in New York.

That common bond is—you and the automobile maker sell to much the same class of people.

Find the New Yorker who owns a $5,000 motor car and you've found a better than average prospect for any fine product. And by fine product we mean anything from a twenty-five cent cake of soap to a $4,500 dining room suite.

That being the case, consider the sales of three higher priced motor cars in the New York area and the astonishing facts the automobile industry has discovered about the people who buy motor cars in New York.

In 1928 the New York Evening Post traced every Cadillac, Pierce Arrow and Packard sold in the five great metropolitan boroughs to the residence of the individual buyer. These sales were then checked against those sections of town where family expenditures range from $12,000 a year upward—and $12,000 is no great sum in a city like New York. The results were:

Make of car	% Sold in $12,000 Expenditure Districts
Cadillac	37% to 4% of population
Pierce Arrow	37% to 4% of population
Packard	29% to 4% of population

Take a leaf out of the automobile people's sales manual. Go after the people with money. Advertise in the Evening Post.

For the Evening Post already has over 100,000 readers of the type you must reach. People who live in the upper expenditure districts.

Advertise in the Evening Post and reach New York's top 100,000

From New York's six millions the Evening Post has drawn over 100,000 readers—people who live in the favored income districts—people whose wants are many and whose lacks are few.

They could make the fortune of any firm they dealt with. And their indifference might well break some others.

By screening your prospects for you—by skimming the cream—the Evening Post makes your advertising dollars stretch farther—and your sales dollars grow more quickly.

When You Over-indulge

Every man, woman and child will occasionally over-indulge. But don't suffer for all your indiscretions. It's folly to do so. You can so easily sweeten and settle a sour, upset stomach with a little Philips Milk of Magnesia. Hearty eaters have long since learned the quick comfort this perfect anti-acid brings. Smokers know how it neutralizes nicotine, brings back a sweet taste, quenches the thirst. Women know what it does for masses or sick headaches. And when children have over-eaten—are bilious, constipated or otherwise upset—give them a little of the same, pleasant-tasting and milky-white Philips Milk of Magnesia. You'll be through with your methods once you learn the perfect way. Nothing else has the same gentle effect. Doctors prescribe it for your stomach, indigestion, heartburn, gas, nausea, headache. It has been standard with them for over 50 years. Insist on genuine Philips Milk of Magnesia. A less perfect product doesn't act the same. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Chas. H. Philips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Chas. H. Philips since 1875.

WILSON ESTATE VALUED AT $10,000,000

Country Shows Large Bank Holdings.

The inventory of the estate of Mr. Wilson, one of the founders of the country, was valued at $10,000,000. The chief items were real estate, stocks, bonds, and personal effects. The estate was valued by a committee of experts, and the total value was found to be $10,000,000. The inventory was completed by the committee of experts, and the total value was found to be $10,000,000.

The greater part of the estate in bank stocks. These, listed with market values, follow:

Continental Illinois Bank	$6,536,400
First National Bank of Chicago	307,000
First Trust and Savings Bank	250,400
First National Bank of the City of Chicago	350,114
First National Bank and Trust Company of Evanston	35,238
First National Bank (now merged)	5,650
Bank stocks with their market value	$7,484,802

The inventory was filed with Assistant Judge Edelman by the law firm of Miller, Lamb, Foster & Pope. Mr. Wilson's will was filed on Feb. 15. Under the will the $10,000,000 was to be distributed to the university and to the Northwestern with the understanding that the income be used to build up the most outstanding university in the midwest.

Previous gifts to the university had totaled more than $1,500,000. The bequest of $100,000 each were made by Mr. Wilson to the Wesleyan Memorial Hospital, the Methodist Episcopal Old People's home, and the Northwestern Relief association of the Rock River conference. Other amounts were left to relatives.

CHURCH PEACE PLEA IS SPREAD IN TWO NATIONS

Message Covers U. S. and England.

New York, May 22.—[Special.]—An appeal for a better understanding between the peoples of the United States and Great Britain, entitled a "British-American Message to the Churches and to All People of Good Will," will be released simultaneously tomorrow in this country and in Great Britain. The appeal expresses the hope that all war soon may be abolished. It contains the signatures of ninety-seven prominent British clergymen and religious leaders and eighty-nine prominent American ministers and educators.

The message was prepared by committees appointed by the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches in this country and England. Dr. Fred B. Smith, chairman of the executive committee of the world alliance, who has just returned from England with the signatures of the British group, took the original American composition to England for study and approval. Must Eliminate War.

"We, whose names are attached hereto," the message says, "in loyalty to our respective countries and in the conviction that the welfare of each country is linked indissolubly with friendship for the other, unite in the following message, with the earnest hope that it may help to crystallize the thoughts which we believe are forming among multitudes of men and women in Great Britain and the United States.

"We believe the time has come when the world must have done with war in fact, in expectation, and in planning.

"We believe that another collision between great nations would be an assault upon civilization and an offense against God; we believe the intelligence and the conscience of this generation are able to build the structure of a permanent peace.

Approve Kellogg Treaty.

"We hail, as a standard around which the thought and will of the world can rally, the multilateral treaty against war, signed by representatives of Great Britain and the United States and others of the great nations, renouncing war and embodying the pledge of the signatory nations that 'the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts, of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.'

"We believe our nations when they signed this pledge meant what they said.

"We believe the paramount obligation of political leaders in our respective governments is to shape the policies of these countries in accord with the treaty renouncing war.

"As patriots, loyal to the solemn promise of our respective countries to renounce war, we hereby pledge ourselves, as individuals, to accept in spirit and in fact the words of the treaty which we already have quoted.

"To discountenance any and all expressions or acts which contemplate as possible the use of any but pacific means for the settlement of disputes or conflicts; and to do our utmost to rally all men and women of good will to unite with us in this same determination."

BRITISH ELECTION COSTS MAY SET NEW HIGH MARK

Seven Million New Voters to Cast Ballots.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Copyright 1929 by The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, May 22.—The financial aspect of the general election promises to be formidable. Experts estimate that though the campaign is up to date one of the quietest of modern times that the total cost of returning 615 members to Westminster will be the heaviest for half a century, and may even set a new high mark for all time.

The factors accounting for this excessive expenditure are two—the record number of candidates in the field outside of those that have already been returned unopposed, that is, 1,723 men and women, nearly 300 more candidates than the previous highest record; and the addition of practically 7,000,000 new voters with a consequent increase in the permitted expenses of the new candidates.

Allowed Twelve Pence to Each Voter. Each candidate is allowed to spend six pence, that is, 12 cents, per elector in the county constituencies, five pence per elector, or 10 cents, in the boroughs. Where a borough returns two members the scale of expenditure is reduced to three pence three farthings, or 7½ cents, per elector. For instance, in a county constituency with 40,000 electors the bill of the candidates may reach $1,600, or about $4,800, and in a borough constituency with 30,000 electors it may reach $1,200, or about $3,600.

The county election agent's fee is fixed at £75, or about $363, and the borough agent's fee at £50, or about $245, while each candidate is permitted to spend £100, or about $486, in personal expenses.

In addition, of course, there is considerable expenditure in connection with the remuneration of presiding officers at polling booths and their clerks, also the cost of the hire of the polling booths. The state, however, bears this cost, and £250,000, or about $1,215,000, was included in this year's parliamentary estimates for this purpose.

Highest Cost Was in 1896. The highest election cost recorded in the last half-century was in 1896, when it came to a total of £1,736,781, or about $8,440,755. Since the passing of the corrupt practices act three years later the million sterling figure has only been reached on four occasions, the highest being in the 1910 January elections, when the total expenditure came to £1,295,733, or about $6,297,500.

The total cost of the last three elections was in 1923, £1,018,195, or about $4,948,432; in 1923, £982,349, or about $4,734,172; and in 1924, £921,145, or about $4,480,750.

The present election establishes another record in the high number of electors entitled to vote in two different constituencies as thousands of women under the equal franchise act are now able to vote, owing to the business premises qualification of their husbands as well as on their residential qualification.

According to the final figures issued officially tonight in England and Wales there are 1,357,776 more women electors in the parliamentary registers than men. Including Scotland, the women have a majority of 1,519,081. Great Britain's total of electors is 28,072,795. Before the last election the franchise electorate totaled 22,335,068. The extension increased the electorate by 5,737,727 women voters.

The figures for the ten constituencies of northern Ireland are incomplete, but in eight divisions in which returns have been made, the total number of electors is 647,776. This gives an aggregate for 813 of the 615 constituencies of 28,720,870, an increase of about one-third as compared with the 1924 general election, when 21,700,000 voted.

Baldwin Invades Scotland. KILMARNOCK, Scotland, May 22.—(AP)—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin has invaded Scotland in behalf of the Conservatives' election campaign a day after Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, concluded a week's tour. The prime minister at a big election meeting here last night said conservatism now embraced much of the old Liberal spirit which for many years was a driving force in political center—the old Liberal party of Gladstone and Lord Rosebery.

Unionists Lead in Belfast. (Chicago Tribune Press Service.) BELFAST, May 22.—Polling in the Ulster general election proceeded steadily today in a monotonous downpour. Sixteen Unionists and six Nationalists were returned without opposition. Although the Belfast seats are being contested by independents, the reflection of the ministers of home affairs and finance and the attorney general seems assured. It is expected that the government will secure altogether 35 seats. This, in a parliament of 52, gives a working majority.

TELLS SURGERY'S USE IN BATTLE ON TUBERCULOSIS

Collapse Therapy Is Outlined to Homeopaths.

Great advancement in the treatment of tuberculosis through the use of surgery and collapse therapy, was reported yesterday by Dr. W. H. Waterson of the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital, to the Illinois Homeopathic Medical association in its 74th annual meeting at the Congress hotel. He explained that collapse therapy consists of collapsing parts of the lungs through the introduction of air between the walls of the pleura, relieving the collapsed portions of any work and gives them a chance to heal themselves.

"We have advanced to the point where we can cure 90 per cent or more of the cases we get early; more than 50 per cent of the partly advanced cases and 40 per cent of the really advanced cases," Dr. Waterson said. "The biggest problem in the treatment of tuberculosis is the case of the person who has been under treatment and who has been called cured but is not cured at all. The patient is considered well and is trying to live up to it. Many of our fatal cases today are such cases."

Not a New Treatment. Dr. Waterson said the collapse therapy is not a new treatment, but it is constantly being improved upon. Others who spoke yesterday were Drs. Lila Beers, C. Harkness, A. H. Grimmer, J. A. Graham, Richard Street, Charles Freund, Leftry Thompson, and E. J. Barkham, all of Chicago, and Dr. J. H. Renner of Palestine, Grant Houston of Joliet, Dr. George Love of Oconomowoc, Wis., and Dr. John Edwin Ames of Niles, Mich.

Today Dr. Frank Brannan of Chicago will discuss the effect of certain drugs on the ductless or endocrine glands, which, the doctors say, govern the behavior.

Uphold Schmidt Ouster. The society for resolution yesterday endorsed the action of the Illinois State Medical society, which in February on Tuesday sustained the expulsion of Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, Chicago surgeon, from the Chicago Medical society. Dr. Schmidt was accused of an indirect connection with the Public Health Institute, an advertising medical organization. Dr. Harold W. Miller, president of the homeopaths, said his association had in no way been influenced by the state society. Dr. Schmidt, told of the homeopaths' action, said he had no comment to make.

Every year since 1909 Indiana Trucks have been meeting every transportation problem

THIRTY, hard-working, downright dependability has been the reputation of Indiana Trucks for 20 years. Today, in line with this reputation, is new performance that is establishing new records of economy—that is bringing in repeat orders to the Indiana factory—that stands out in any comparison of a truck's first cost or operating charges.

Year after year more and more Indiana Trucks go into every type of truck service to prove with performance that they are the greatest truck value on the market. Since the organization of the Indiana Truck Corporation in 1909 none but the very best obtainable materials and units have gone into the manufacture of Indiana Trucks. Every engineering improvement of proved worth, in every unit, has been incorporated as soon as it was developed. Every inch of these sturdy, fine-looking trucks is kept as modern as the minute.

Indiana Trucks have won their place on sheer merit—on records of performance that prove in dollars saved that here are trucks giving something more for their purchase price. It is the undeniable economy of Indiana operation that continues to build this truck's reputation for money-making and money-saving performance.

Now marketed by one of the three largest exclusive truck manufacturers

See these sturdy, swift new Indanas, the product of the third largest manufacturer of motor-trucks exclusively, the Brockway Motor Truck Corporation, and are the most outstanding example of specialized motor-truck construction in the country. An organization of great financial strength, invaluable good-will and assured continuance in business. An organization doing business in 85 countries, and having more than 350 points of sales-and-service facilities in the United States alone—including 43 factory branches.

Types of trucks for every haulage need. One to seven tons. Six and four cylinders. By all means see the fine-looking, rugged new Indanas.

DEATH TOLL IN MEXICAN REVOLT PLACED AT 4,000

Estimate Material Losses at $50,000,000.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MEXICO CITY, May 22.—What a Mexican revolution, even though covering only two months of actual fighting, means is illustrated by an official statement issued this afternoon. The number of soldiers on both sides killed in battle came to 4,000, and there were 15,000 wounded in the campaign, and many of these will be incapacitated for life. Over 400 miles of railroad were destroyed by the rebel forces and 40 bridges were blown up. The material losses of the revolution, including the destruction of railroads, the interruption of business of all kinds, the robbing of banks, the confiscation of capital, the forced loans, the taxes imposed, and the loss in crops, are placed at $50,000,000 American money.

According to Universal Graphic this afternoon these figures are due to the investigations made by the former minister for war, Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles. The losses include the expenditure of the government for the purchase of arms, ammunition, and war supplies, and the expenses of conducting the war by both the federal government and the rebels.

Gen. Juan Guiberto Amaya, former governor of the state of Durango, who retreated from Durango City on the approach of Gen. Calles' forces before the attack on Torreón with 900 men, yesterday suffered what an official report characterized as "an overwhelming defeat" at Palmillas, in the state of Durango.

Gen. Amaya had retreated from the state of Durango owing to the activity of the federal troops, into the state of Sinaloa, only to be met there by heavy cavalry under Col. Quisones. Gen. Amaya, who is a former guerrilla leader, entrenched himself in the hills and held off the federal troops from early in the morning until late in the afternoon, when the federals, climbing the hills, took the rebels in the rear. The latter, having already suffered heavy losses, broke and fled and lost many more men in their flight.

HUNGRY RUSSIA TO SAVE SELF BY RAISING BUNNIES

Plan Home Culture of Millions of Rabbits.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
RIGA, May 22.—Communist humorists, whose attacks upon projects of the soviet government are seldom censured, are devoting special numbers to the latest campaign which concerns the future of the Russian rabbit.

The shortage of meat in Moscow and other cities has resulted in a plan aimed to assist the Russian cities. The plan provides that the Albin bunny, whose rate of increase is a source of envy to Mussolini, shall be bred intensively by Russia.

Domesticated rabbit is obtainable at every Russian market. Housewives say its flesh is remarkably like that of the chicken.

The Moscow Krokodile reports that a meeting was held to discuss bunny breeding. One speaker advanced a five year plan for the home culture of the rabbit. As in the case of other soviet plans, figures have been prepared and it is estimated that by 1934 Russia will be slaughtering 55,000,000 rabbits yearly, furnishing 15,000 tons of meat, worth $2,750,000, as well as skins worth $65,000,000.

The meeting passed a resolution, which the government has approved, advocating the dissemination of special literature concerning rabbit breeding as well as the production of a film showing how to care for rabbits and how to organize rabbit breeding societies.

The national trade commissariat has organized a special department under Deputy Commissar Chukhrta of the rabbit committee.

The Krokodile recalls that Lenin advocated electrification in order to save Russia; that a later government published slogans declaring that automobilization would save Russia; that the latest previous plan to save Russia called for the organization of state grain ranches, and that now it is the bunnies that are being called upon to save bolshevism.

VICTORY HALTS LOOT OF CANTON: FOES SURRENDER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
SHANGHAI, May 22.—Canton tonight is wildly celebrating its escape from the capture and pillage of the Kwangsi war lords.

The Cantonese army has recaptured Samshu Lupa on the West river and 5,000 Kwangsi troops have surrendered.

Gen. Feng Yu-shiang, the Christian general, sent a telegram to the foreign consuls here today warning them against lending assistance to Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's "illegal government" and stating a military movement was in full swing against Gen. Chiang, hence any foreign loans or munitions from foreign sources destined for Gen. Chiang would be considered illegal by him.

Michigan state police yesterday arrested Alexander York, who said he lived in Chicago, and his wife, Eva, when, stopping York's car to call his attention to a dangling license plate, they became suspicious and discovered 238 pints of whisky hidden in the rear seat. The officers said the seizure was worth about $1,500.

CUBAN'S REACH GIVES EDGE IN CLOSE BATTLE18,000 See Bout at New Stadium.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, May 22.—Kid Chocolate, a stringy little black boy from Cuba with a pockmarked face and a brass tooth gleam like the doorknob of a national bank, beat Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion of the world, in a swift ten round fight at the New York arena, a new fight amphitheater in the Bronx, this evening, taking the decision after a close but generally harmless fight.

Chocolate took a dive from La Barba's left jab about midway in the fight which brought a small pink dab to the Italian college boy's cheek, but there was no spraining on the rug by either party, and the entire display was free of brutality. Notwithstanding this the customers, of whom there seemed to be eighteen thousand, including many of the winner's complexion, maintained a roaring hubbub from start to finish and seemed much pleased by the boys' work.

Chocolate Starts Fast.

Although these two might have decided the ten-round championship of the world, which is now open to argument, they came into the ring above the weight for the class, 118 pounds, so the decision only means that Chocolate beat La Barba. La Barba weighed 121 pounds and Chocolate 120 1/2.

The Little Negro won the first two rounds by a fine division of points scored, then dropped command of the proceedings as La Barba apparently solved his defensive tactics of skirting arms and popping gloves. For the next three rounds, La Barba rushed at him and had Chocolate bowing his back, trying to pull away from left hooks to the body. La Barba was driving himself at a killing speed and sweeping the Negro before him. Several times he carried Chocolate to the ropes and whipped over his left in high, lifting shots to the head, one of which, in the fifth round, sent the Cuban floundering with his feet in a tangle.

La Barba's Chin.

But in the sixth and again in round seven, Chocolate made La Barba fall with left hooks to the body and banged him on the back of the head with his right hand as the white boy swept by. As the first of these punches landed, in the sixth, La Barba was knocked aside and Chocolate lashed him on the chin with uppercuts, forcing him to cover for the first time. Both fighters had held on before this, but now La Barba could not touch his way through the drumming gloves to grab holds and he stood with his sole flat on the canvas and tried to weave away from the punches. La Barba rallied a little toward the end of the sixth and impaled Chocolate on the end of a hard left to the body.

The right hand shot to the head in the seventh round caught La Barba in the same way and at about the same spot in the ring, near his own corner. Again he was stunned for an instant and the grinning Little Negro flashed a beam from his brass tooth as he gloved the ex-champion's chin with both hands. This time La Barba had even more trouble finding himself in the storm, although it seemed he inferred that he was in any danger of being knocked out.

The Kid Fences Straight.

La Barba never had control of the work after that. He rushed from his corner at the start of each round, but he was several inches shorter than Chocolate and his arms were too long around in swinging arcs instead of punching straight as he stormed in. Chocolate, with more inches and a greater reach, was punching straight and he landed La Barba's punches calmly when their bodies clashed together.

The fight was so close that La Barba still could have won the decision after the eighth, but Chocolate clinched him with both hands early in the ninth, and followed them with two punches with a general fire to the face. La Barba covered up again, with no dignity whatever at this point, although he did land two left hooks to the face near the end of the round.

Both fighters were so close and so fast that comparatively few of their punches landed at all. La Barba seemed especially interested in the long, glittering expense of the Negro boy's body, with the slats stirring under the main man's arms. He found him tender when he was doing his best work about half way through the fight.

La Barba Makes Face.

La Barba made the pace all the way, but Chocolate's job was probing his in the features constantly and many of his left hooks to the head were picked off with an airy flick of a long black right arm.

Chocolate's prime is given as Argentine, not Argentine, as your correspondent had been led to understand. The error probably was due to an association of names. One gets both Argentina and Argentina at the delimitation.

Afable Bell went to the floor in the first round of his bout with Joe Egan at 120 pounds, claiming to have been hit on the knee. The referee pulled the first four rounds and announced that the Negro was a first by a narrow plurality. So Bell won and the customers lost.

Girl Tank Stars
Race for C.A.A.U.
Titles Tonight

Whether Isabelle Smith shall continue to reign queen of the distance swimmers will be decided in the Illinois Women's Athletic club tank tonight. For the last two years no one has questioned her position as champion of Chicago's distance stars, but tonight her teammate, Mary Lou Quinn, is making her start in the 500 yard Central A. A. U. championship. This is a new distance for Miss Quinn and some question whether she can carry her speed over the longer course.

If Mary Lou wins this one she will have to her credit every Central A. A. U. title from 50 to 500 yards. Other entries in the 500 yard event are: Emma Schmalitz, Dagny Van Maarth, and Regina Gliden, the club's juvenile star.

In the low board diving title event Jane Fauntz, national champion, is an outstanding favorite. Ruth Fauntz, another member of the same family, and Molly Miller are picked to fight it out for second.

In the Wake of the News

MANAGING THE MANAGER.
Dear Wake: I have been a staunch follower of the Chicago Cubs for the last six years and have hoped at the start of each season that year would see us on the top of the heap in September. This year we again seem to have a good chance if all play ball as they are capable of playing.

To do this we must have the best men in the game all the time. In my eyes, Cliff Heathcote is better than Hack Wilson in center field. He doesn't make as many fielding boobies and he is a far better base runner. If playing regularly he would hit as well as Wilson.

I don't mean to crab the manager's choice, but I want to see the Bruns as pennant winners and I think Cliff Heathcote as guardian of the center patch would increase their chances.

Cub Fan from Galesburg.

SMITH, 273, WINS
FRENCH TOURNEY
ON HIS BIRTHDAYBoomer's 61 Amazes Golf Fans at St. Cloud.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, May 22.—Two good rounds of 70 and 71, by way of celebrating his 21st birthday, gave Horton Smith, the Missouri pro, the first prize money he has pocketed since he came to Europe, for today he led the field in the final day of the French professional golf tournament.

The Missourian had a total score of 213, five ahead of his nearest rival, Aubrey Boomer, who, however, stole some of the thunder from the American youth by negotiating the St. Cloud course, his home course, in the remarkable score of 61, five under the record made by Smith yesterday, and probably the low score record for his tournament play over any championship course. Boomer finished with 273.

Gene Sarazen, whose morning round was 67 and afternoon round 72, finished third with 239. Johnny Farrell was fourth with 290. Andre Boyer, a French professional, was fifth with 292. Walter Hagen and Henry Cotton of Great Britain tied for sixth with 295, and Joe Turnesa followed with 296.

Boomer, who had previously done 61 over the St. Cloud course before the holes were lengthened, played like a madman this morning. He went out in 33, bagging two birdies and ending the other seven holes in par. Coming in, all he did was to collect two eagles and four birdies for a 28 and a total of 61. On the last nine holes he took only 10 putts, and on both of the long holes, which are par 5s, he got eagle thrice.

Boomer's card:

The American contingent of professionals will now depart for Berlin for the German open championship.

VICTOR

Cubs Invade
St. Louis; Open
Series Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.
Our Cubs are getting an early start on the crucial series business this year. They left last night on their first 1929 visit to St. Louis to engage the league champions in a three game series, starting this afternoon.

The today-tomorrow-Saturday carry-overs at Sportsman's park will be for the league leadership, an honor now held by the Cubs over their rival opponent, the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals, who have refused to live up to forecasts about their shattered morale, now are being looked upon as the club to beat if a pennant is to be had. As a consequence, Boss Joe will throw his best pitching talent into the series. The current schedule is Blake today, Malone tomorrow, and Root Saturday. If any one happens to any of this trio, Guy Bush, already boasting a shutout over the Redbirds, will be there pawing to get to work.

Usually the schedule makers arrange for the western clubs to visit St. Louis before the hot days set in. But this year the card is freakish in many respects.

CLIFF DURANT RETIRE FROM
AUTO RACING

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—(UP)—Cliff Durant, multimillionaire sportsman and race driver, tonight announced he is through with racing and willing to let "the young guys carry on with a young man's game."

Durant is 31. He was scheduled to drive in the annual Indianapolis 500 mile sweepstakes on Memorial day.

"I no longer feel the reckless abandon it takes to drive in Indianapolis," he said. "It's difficult to retire, for I have been racing since 1915, and speeding is a young man's game."

"For years I've heard the statement, 'If I had that guy's dough, I would not look at a speeding automobile.' I guess I've got the dough, but there's a thrill in racing which makes a guy forget about dough. I'm sorry to quit, but I guess it's for the best."

Seek Bookie Who Absconded with Bets on Walter Hagen

LONDON, May 22.—(Special)—Pierce & Sons, a London firm of solicitors, have been retained by Herbert Lubin of Los Angeles, Cal., through Lawler and Degrain, a Los Angeles firm of lawyers, to try to recover $1,000 which Mr. Lubin sent to a "bookie" alias John Stanley, the "golf bookmaker," to bet on Walter Hagen in the British open golf championship at the odds of five to one.

Mr. Lubin expected to get $5,000 when Hagen won, but he has not even had an acknowledgment of the original $1,000. In the meantime Stanley has disappeared from the office at 49 Knightsbridge which he hired last March on a weekly tenancy, and he cannot be found.

The London police are looking for him, too, but they admit that there is little chance of an unless some American victim comes to London to testify as he seems to have confined his operations to America. They hope they may get him for operating as a bookie without a license but that will only mean a small fine and it may also require American testimony.

Civil suits to recover the money would also be difficult as Stanley might plead the gaming act which makes gambling debts irrecoverable at law, but it is hoped that if he can be found and proved to have any money or property that something may be recovered on the basis that he was in the habit of his activities were fraudulent.

CHICAGOANS ALSO LOSE

John Stanley, bookmaker, whose disappearance is reported from London held, at least, several thousand dollars of money mailed and cashed in the district before the British open. A few golfers say they have been receiving these bookmaker's prices from Stanley for five or six years, but this year the number mailed was greatly increased. Nor until this year were any great number of bets made and it was impossible last night to find anyone who had made a wager with Stanley before this year.

Publicly given the Ryder cup matches and the entry of the entire American Ryder cup team in the British open stirred interest to the point where members of many clubs mailed and cashed money to Stanley. The long odds Stanley offered also might have had something to do with drawing bets.

Archie Compston was the favorite in Stanley's "line" at 20 to 1, while Walter Hagen, George Von Elm, George Duncan and T. H. Cotton were quoted at 33 to 1. Stanley offered 40 to 1 against Jim Barnes, Mac Smith, Gene Sarazen, Bill Melhorn and Abe Mitchell, 50 to 1 against Al Espinosa, Johnny Farrell, Bobby Cruikshank, Joe Kirkwood and Horton Smith, and 60 to 1 against Tommy Armour, Leo Diegel, Emmett French, Al Watrous, and Joe Turnesa.

Probably the bet that caught many of the Americans was a line across the bottom of the card reading "Six to one against any player qualifying." This did not mean, as many thought, qualifying for the championship proper in the two preliminary rounds but "qualifying" for the final 36 holes.

NEW YORK UNION
DERBYIST WINS
53D LAP OF RACE

Pecos, Tex., May 22.—(UP)—Continuing the pace he had set for the last week, Sam Richman of New York won today a heavy rain today to win the fifty-third lap of the transcontinental union derby, covering the 30 miles from Monahans, Tex., in 1:39:50.

For the fourth successive day Johnny Sals, Pecos, N. J., leader in the derby, was the runner up, Pete Gavrud, bearded Englishman, tied. They finished third in 5:01:30.

Divorcee's Suit Joke, Tunney's
Friends Claim

New York, May 22.—(Special)—From Gene Tunney, now on a honeymoon in Brioni, Italy, with his bride, the former Polly Lauder, from his attorney, and the Lauder family there came today unqualified denial of the claims of Mrs. Katherine King-Fogarty, Texas divorcee, who has started suit for $500,000 against the former heavyweight champion, alleging breach of promise.

The complaint of Mrs. Fogarty, a milliner living at the San Carlos hotel, accused Tunney of proposing marriage to her at Hot Springs, Ark., in 1925, and then refusing to go through with the ceremony.

That the Lauder family and the former Polly Lauder in particular were aware of Mrs. Fogarty prior to the Tunney-Lauder wedding was revealed by Floyd E. Barbour, secretary to Mrs. George H. Lauder, mother of Mrs. Tunney.

"The matter of Mrs. Fogarty," said Barbour, "was discussed at length by the Lauder family before the marriage. It was decided there was nothing to the claim."

Barbour F. Fryer Jr., a friend of Tunney, who is representing him here in business matters, said:

"It is a joke and a very poor joke when his wife is seriously ill. Tunney's entire reputation is built on character."

The $500,000 action was branded as a "threat"—the latest of "numerous threats of this kind made in the past by this woman"—in a statement by George W. Whitelock, Tunney's attorney.

Catches Foul Ball in Hip
Pocket at No-Hit Game

Peoria, Ill., May 22.—(UP)—Furry of Bradley Tech, joined the ranks of "Little Big" no hit pitchers today, turning back Lincoln college without a hit, for a 13 to 0 victory. Only one man reached first base, an error being responsible. The win was Bradley's fifth in conference competition. In the sixth inning a foul ball from the bat of Keltner, Lincoln second baseman, dropped into his own hip pocket.

WALTER ECKERSALL

Three hundred and twenty-five athletes will compete in the largest entry since it has been confined only to Big Ten schools. The competition in the twenty-ninth annual track and field championships of the western conference in the Dyche stadium, Northwestern university, tomorrow and Friday. Preliminaries in some of the fifteen individual events will be staged tomorrow starting at 10 o'clock. Finals will be determined tomorrow, beginning at the same hour. Athletes completed preparations yesterday. Most of them will start for the Purple athletic field today. Coaches and their track performers through the time trials. Field performers experienced final tests.

Iowa Team Stands Out

Other conference schools have an opportunity to win their way into the select class this week-end. Iowa, under conference champion, undoubtedly will be a contender. The team holds true for Ohio State and Indiana. In George Simpson the Hawkeyes have one of the best sprinters in the country. He is expected to win both dashes. Pete Blumstein of the State is favored in the discus throw, while Kries in the dashes, backway in the hurdles, and Ushely in the hammer will be counted upon to score points for the Scarlet and Gray. Coach Hayes of Indiana will rely upon Gordon for the dashes, his machine runners, and Rinehart in the javelin throw.

Coaches Will Draw

Dashes of all teams will gather at the North Shore hotel in Evanston tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to assign teams in the dashes and hurdles and draw for track positions in the mile and half mile runs. The number in quality in each event will depend upon the scratches.

NORTHWESTERN TRIUMPHS OVER MEIJI NINE, 5-3

Northwestern university's baseball team, which has been called "murderers' row" of the west yesterday by collecting 12 runs in one of them a home run, to defeat Meiji university of Japan, 5 to 3. The Purple picked up its first tally in the second when Larry Oliphant hit out a circuit smash. Three consecutive singles in the third by Jack Rohn and Oliphant, put the team in the lead and they were never headed.

GUEST EARNS 10 GOAL INDOOR POLO HANDICAP

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Winston Guest, former Yale captain, today won the first and only polo in the history of American indoor polo to win a handicap of ten goals.

Previously sharing a nine goal handicap with two other stars, Guest was raised to sole possession of the new top rating at the annual spring meeting of the Indoor Polo Association of the United States.

Besides being the highest ranked indoor player on record, Guest is second only to Tommy Hitchcock on the country's present outdoor list, having distinguished himself in international play last year and earned a handicap of nine goals.

Suspension Ends Clash Between Jockeys, Relatives

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The battle between Uncle Mack Garner and Nephew Willie Garner has ended—at least temporarily.

Willie, who came east this spring to risk for Joseph E. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt, was suspended yesterday by the stewards at Belmont park for "battling" and fouling his uncle.

More severe punishment was promised the lad if he continued his practice.

Uncle Mack is one of the oldest riders in the east. He came here two years ago to ride for William Selig Jr.

Morton Defeats Concordia; Ties for Conference Lead

Morton went into a tie with Lisle for first place in the northern Illinois junior college conference by defeating Concordia, 2 to 1, yesterday at River Forest. A triple by Julius in the first inning with two on base provided the victory. Krohn held the visitors hitless thereafter.

GRIFFITH STAGES FINAL WORKOUT; BOXES TOMORROW

Battles Friedman in Stadium Feature.

All fighters appearing on Promoter Paddy Harrison's boxing card at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night emerged from their final workouts yesterday with serious injury. Principals will weigh in at the boxing commission office at 2 o'clock tomorrow. Also they will be examined.

At Friedman's, the Iowa light heavyweight, stopped six rounds with his sparring partners after going through his usual routine of gymnasium work. Griffith, by the way, must win this fight if he is to tackle Tommy Loughlin for the world's 175 pound title.

Jackie Fields, claimant of the world's welterweight title, stopped six rounds with his sparring mates. Fields meets Clyde Chastain of Texas in one of the other ten rounds.

Both Hit with Right. Luis Violett, the Chilean lightweight, and Armando Santiago, the hard hitting Cuban, also completed final preparations without injury. They will meet in the third round on the card. Both are hard right hand punchers.

Featherweight champion, who now is compelled to fight in the lightweight division, will arrive in Chicago this morning to finish training for his ten round bout with Sammy Mandell, boss of the 135 pound division, at the Miller stadium May 25. Kaplan is under the management of Billy Gibson. Gibson is due Monday.

Haakon Hansen Favorite. Haakon Hansen, the Norwegian middleweight, who meets Ted Ryan of South Chicago in the ten round semi-final, has been made a 6 to 5 favorite over the fighter who stopped Shufie Callahan at the Coliseum last winter.

Mandell continued training yesterday under the watchful eye of Manager Eddie Kane. He boxed three rounds with Bennie McArthur of Saginaw, Mich., and three with Tony Sanders, the local 146 pounder. Following Kaplan's arrival this morning the champion will drill daily at 2 o'clock and his opponent one hour later.

Englewood Track Team Beats De La Salle, 62-33

Led by Greenberg, who scored 15 points, Englewood's track team defeated De La Salle, 62 to 33, yesterday at Sherman park. Englewood won eight of the nine events.

Mr. Carmel Wins Chicago Catholic Prep Golf Title

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Mount Carmel's prep golf champions of last year repeated in this season's Chicago Catholic high school championship by shooting steady golf, while their opponents made the mistakes. Starting three strokes behind after the first day's play, the four Mount Carmel boys yesterday finished with a total of 359-361-720 for the 36 holes over Olympia Fields No. 2 course.

Six strokes back was the St. Rita team, with scores of 344-345-729, and in third place was the first day leaders, De La Salle, who scored 356 on the first round but took 374 shots on the second round for a total of 730.

F. Barry of De La Salle, who took the lead on the opening day held his position and won the individual championship with two 63s for a total of 166. Danny McPartlin of Mount Carmel, with 88 on the first round, turned in the best 18 of the tournament yesterday, 42-39-81, which pulled him up to the runner up position with 169.

The North Shore league opened its season at Briarcliff yesterday with eight of the ten clubs competing. Burton Mudge of Knollwood and Ira L. Couch of Glen View tied for individual honors, each scoring 41-36-77.

Northwestern won its last home golf duel at Westmontland yesterday by swamping Indiana, 11½ to 3½ in the singles. Inasmuch as that clinched the match, the best ball foursomes were canceled.

The Wildcats showed a remarkable consistency of scoring, which augurs well for their bid for the Western conference championship at Minneapolis next week. Whitaker and McKay shot 74 and Miller and Rogers 79.

Fishermen Line Up for Start May 25

Which bays or lakes should a fellow use this week-end in order to get muskellunge, pike, and pickerel on the opening day of the Wisconsin fishing season?

When it comes to fooling a muskie we rely on a variety of lures. Sometimes they work. Sometimes they don't. The 'tunge is a finicky critter. You can never tell what he is going to take.

In the Ontario muskie country a spoon and bucktail with or without a pork strip is a favorite lure for casting or trolling. One year in Wisconsin we had good luck with this type of lure on a small muskie lake northwest of Minocqua and Woodruff.

Those jointed, wobbling underwater plugs also are effective—something that travels anywhere from six inches to a foot beneath the surface. Another clean cut lure that we use a good deal is the weighted fly with pork strip and spinner. You can get this outfit through weeks quite readily.

Later in the season we turn to a good sized wooden lure (with or without spinner), which looks up a fuss on the surface. This is our favorite for use over a weed bed. In many parts of Wisconsin the boys rely on live suckers to get the muskies. This is a deadly bait, of course, but their use takes all the joy and sport out of casting.

Wall eyes will hit deep traveling, weighted, wobbling plugs, but nine out of ten fishermen seem to prefer the old-fashioned live minnow to get their fish.

HYDE PARK WINS. Hyde Park's tennis team clinched first place in the South Section league yesterday by defeating Briarcliff three matches to one in the O'Brien park courts. It was Hyde Park's sixth straight victory.

TILDEN, HUNTER GO INTO FRENCH QUARTER FINALS

Helen Wills, Edith Cross Advance.

PARIS, May 22.—(Special)—The monotonous process of eliminating the unit continued on the third day of the French tennis championships and nothing much perturbed the progress of the big four.

Billie Tilden and Francis Hunter lost one set to Ed Boretra and Junior Coen when the latter youngster went wild with a series of dizzy placements, but the American veterans won handsily, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, and 6-2, thus entering the quarter finals.

Edith Cross, the youthful working girl from California, played by far the best tennis of her first European invasion today. She and Helen Wills defeated Miss Johnston and Miss Fournelle, the Anglo-French pair, 6-4, 6-4, and later Miss Cross and Junior Coen downed Franz Friedlander and Hans Wetzel, the crack German pair, 6-4-6-4.

Cochet and Brugnon, one of the world's greatest doubles teams, beat Matejka and Artana, the Austrian Davis cup team, 6-4, 6-4, and 6-4, and Li Coste and Boretra ousted off Eyz, the Indian star, and Kluhn, the

RESERVE BANKS
AUTOCRACY
U. S. BOARDAdvisory Body Wins
Publicity Fight.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Reserve banks and business men who are directors of the federal reserve banks and bankers who serve on the federal advisory council are expected to exercise greater influence in the conduct of the reserve board hereafter. In fact, they have won at least the publicity fight.

The federal advisory council, following its meeting in Washington on May 22, demanded that the reserve board make public its recommendation on the individual reserve banks be made to advance discount rates.

The reserve board, according to word received in Chicago yesterday, has made the same recommendation a month ago, but its views were not made public. It is evident the advisory council intends hereafter to do something other than the publicity role assigned to it in the past.

Reported by Directors.

The board of the advisory council, which is composed of outstanding bankers representing the twelve reserve districts, is tacitly supported by the directors of the reserve banks. But now the reserve board has been asked to advance discount rates. It is evident the advisory council intends hereafter to do something other than the publicity role assigned to it in the past.

Whether the reserve board is to Whether the reserve board is to follow the advice and wishes of the directors of the reserve banks and representatives of the different districts has been an issue for several years. Chicago banker explained yesterday that the issue has been put up against the board. While it may seem against the reserve banks' directors and the advisory council, at the same time there will be less suppression of views and opinions.

Behind the polite fiction of the advisory council's report lies the fact that its members do not believe the reserve board's position has been successful in reducing the volume of money being devoted to stock market speculation. They believe higher reserve rates will prove more effective in curbing speculation. They believe security loans must be liquidated this summer in order to afford the credit at reasonable rates for next autumn.

Chief Topic.

While higher discount rates will tend to cause firms to pay more and to impose some handicaps on business, the members of the advisory council and the directors of the reserve banks believe the hardship would be imposed during the quiet summer months. Then, when security markets return to a reasonable and safe credit basis, discount rates could be lowered in the autumn.

Whether the New York reserve bank will advance its discount rate from 4 to 5 per cent today, and similar action be taken by the Chicago bank tomorrow, was the chief topic yesterday. The Boston and Kansas City banks made no change in the reserve universal 5 per cent rate. Governor George L. Harrison, governor of the New York bank, and William W. MacGarragh, chairman and reserve agent, conferred in conference with Gov. Roy A. Young of the reserve board and Ogden L. Mills, undersecretary of the treasury.

DIVISION OF OPINION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] New York, May 22.—A sharp division of opinion was evident today in Wall Street's attempts to forecast the effect upon the money market of a prospective increase of the reserve rates by the New York and Chicago Federal Reserve banks and the possibility that similar action might be taken by the Boston and Philadelphia Reserve banks.

It was quite generally agreed that the rates will be raised in New York and Chicago either to 5 1/2 or 6 per cent and that the action is likely to take place this week or next. Doubt was expressed in well informed quarters whether such a rise would actually increase the cost of money borrowed.

Needles Rust as Women Flock to Buy Clothing

BY SCRUTATOR.

Government statistics tend to prove what has been suspected for a good many years—that the great American home is becoming more a place for rest and pleasure than a workshop. As an instance the bureau of the census reports that establishments engaged primarily in the manufacture of women's clothing had an output in 1927, the last census year, of $1,494,401,544. This represented an increase of 15.5 per cent over the output in 1925, when the preceding census was taken.

Price levels in the two years considered did not vary much. If anything, there was a slight decrease. Apparently that 15.5 per cent of increase in the factory product represented in large part business taken away from sewing machines in the homes. The trend has been noted in other statistics. Silk sales before the war were divided in the proportion of three-fourths piece goods, going to individuals who sewed their own, and one-fourth to factories, while nowadays three-fourths of the silk goes to manufacturing establishments.

Trend to Consolidation.

Apparently from 1925 to 1927 the making of women's clothing was one industry that escaped any movement toward consolidation. The number of establishments increased from 6,127 to 7,585 or 23.8 per cent. The average number of workers employed was 154.4 as compared to 128.466, an increase of 22.1 per cent. From these figures it appears that the average factory was smaller in the later census year.

In the latter part of 1923 and the first quarter of 1929, however, there were several consolidations of these manufacturers, capital well up in the millions being involved. The general statistics indicate favorable earnings.

BOND MARKET
SUFFERS; GOVT.
ISSUES SLUMP

(New York bond list, page 27.)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] New York, May 22.—The federal reserve board six per cent discount rate threat had an immediate and unfavorable effect on high grade bonds today.

There was quite heavy selling in United States government issues and throughout the list of legal rails and public utilities.

The declines in United States Liberty and in treasury certificates were drastic, considering the losses that occurred on Tuesday. Together the result of the two days' selling is a decline of from 1/4 to nearly a point in the Liberties, and 1-1/2 in the United States treasury 4 1/2s, which with the treasury 4s, were the weakest features of this list of bonds.

Chief Topic.

While higher discount rates will tend to cause firms to pay more and to impose some handicaps on business, the members of the advisory council and the directors of the reserve banks believe the hardship would be imposed during the quiet summer months. FinancingTAPLINS PICK OWN
OFFICERS IN FIGHT WITH VAN SWERINGENS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., May 22.—The battle between two factions, one headed by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen and the other by Frank E. and C. F. Taplin, for control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad assumed such a hostile complex tonight that police were summoned to guard the railroad offices.

Uniformed officers tonight paraded before the doors to the Wheeling offices to prevent Taplin elected officials from taking possession of files and records of the road. The police were sent to the Union Trust building at the request of the Wheeling directorate, which the Taplins had voted to oust.

The queer mixup which the Wheeling is now involved came about today as the result of two separate stockholders meetings. After a stormy session, the Van Sweringen representatives voted to adjourn the meeting until Aug. 1 and withdrew. Stockholders allied with the Taplins opened a new session and voted to oust the present directorate. It was by far the most spectacular chapter yet enacted by the lengthy and bitter fight to control the Wheeling.

Shortly before 10 o'clock tonight attorneys for the present officers of the Wheeling and Lake Erie obtained a temporary injunction from Common Pleas Judge Alvin J. Pearson restraining any of the Taplin named group from obtaining records of the road or assuming any of its offices.

The Taplin slate of officers consists of Frank E. Taplin, Cleveland, president and chairman; Joseph S. Wood, Cleveland, vice president; George T. Fillius, Warren, O., treasurer; Arthur C. Bourne, Cleveland, auditor and secretary.

Mathieson Alkali Corp.
Votes Initial Dividend

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 22.—An initial dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock of the Mathieson Alkali corporation was declared today, thereby placing the new shares on a 50 annual basis after the four for one split. This was equivalent to $5 a share annually on the old stock, which had been receiving dividends of $5 a year.

An option of dividends in stock at the rate of one share for each 100 held was offered. To the extent that the dividend is payable in stock the shares will be issued on the basis of $10 a share.

Directors of the American Commercial Alcohol corporation placed the common stock on an annual dividend basis of $1.40 per share by declaring a regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share, payable July 15 to stock of record June 30. A three per cent extra stock dividend on the common stock also was declared as well as the regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent on the preferred stock.

Covers Two Quarters.

Directors of the Continental Corporation of America omitted the quarterly dividends of 30 cents and 15 cents respectively on the class "A" and "B" stocks of the company. The L.

A. Young Spring and Bumper company voted an extra dividend of 25 cents a share.

Regular dividends of $3 a share on new preferred stock and $1 a share on common stock were declared by the Owens, Illinois Glass company, payable June 15.

The Paraffin companies voted an extra dividend of 2 per cent in stock and the regular quarterly of $1 cash, both payable June 27 to holders of record June 17. An initial quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share was declared on the common stock of the Schiff company, placing it on a 50 annual dividend basis.

Approve Payment.

Shareholders of the Swedish Match company, at their annual meeting, held in Stockholm, approved the payment of a final dividend of 10 per cent, making a total of 15 per cent for the year 1928. Directors were also authorized to pay an interim dividend of 5 per cent later in 1929. The company's profit for 1928 totaled $15,000,000.

Dividends on the preferred stock of the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting company were resumed with the announcement that directors had voted a payment of $1.50 a share, payable July 1 to owners of record June 14. No dividends have been paid since 1920.

16 1/2 Points.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Fears that the New York and Chicago federal reserve banks will increase their discount rates this week brought a selling wave to the Chicago stock market yesterday in which net losses to more than sixteen points were registered. The directors of the New York bank will meet today and those of the Chicago bank will meet tomorrow.

Bendix corporation dropped 16 1/2 points and Bendix Aviation lost 7 1/2. Borg-Warner lost 8 points.

Complete Negotiations.

Officials of the Rockford Drilling Machine company of Rockford, Ill., announced last night that negotiations were completed during the day for the acquisition of the company by Borg-Warner. Transfer of the business and assets of the company to Borg-Warner will be completed within a week, they added.

Losses up to three points were felt by the Houdaille-Hershey issues, Hinks Manufacturing, General Spring Bumper "B," Allied Motor Industries, and Ainsworth Manufacturing.

Auburn Automobile was the principal exception, soaring 14 points to a top of $14, after which it closed at $14, up 8 points on the day. Nachman Springfield reflected announcement that the company expects to acquire

ails-Ships-Roads vie to provide for growing Southern commerce

Nowhere in this country, today, are new railroads building, old lines improving, ports developing and good roads constructing as fast as in the South.

This is eloquent testimony of the importance which great corporations, the federal government and states attach to the South's commercial development. Lately the Shipping Board ranked the Southern States first in exports and second in imports, of the five divisions of the country.

But such facts no longer excite surprise. Alert investors recognize the South as the great field of opportunities; they realize that the big market for Southern securities is still ahead.

Caldwell & Company, Southern investment bankers, long have studied the South and sponsored sound Southern securities. "Shares in the South" is a Southern investment trust, the securities of which are suggested to individuals and institutions. Write for details.

A good time to buy bonds

Industrial

American industry, as a whole, is in a healthy and prosperous condition. It leads the world in low-cost, mass production. It is able to pay high wages—making a substantial reservoir of buying power to absorb its products. Many forces are at work, tending to stabilize industry. As typical of these may be cited modern research, improved advertising and marketing methods, larger units resulting from consolidations, and a steady growth in exports indicating an expanding market for excess production.

Corporate earnings are already in process of stabilization. 1928, for which complete figures are not yet available, is conceded to be one of the best years of the decade so far. Fluctuation from the average of all years since 1921 has been notably less for the last half of that period. The cash position of industry is the best in its history.

Good values may be had in today's bond market—the general level of prices is now at its lowest point since November, 1926; equities back of the bonds have been materially strengthened in numerous cases by the recent extensive stock financing. The present attractiveness of good bonds is emphasized by contrast with the market position of many junior issues. For example, taking the first 25 common stocks quoted on the New York Stock Exchange, of companies having both first mortgage bonds and common stocks outstanding, the interesting fact is disclosed that, despite the junior position of the stocks, their yield as of March 21, was actually almost 1½% less than that of the first mortgage bonds of the same companies.—(From Halsey, Stuart & Co. advertisement April 11, 1929.)

The equity in industry is gradually increasing. In 1928, 67% of the new capital invested was derived from the sale of stock, the highest since 1920. This large increase in stock equity materially strengthens the position of the senior securities.

In the face of these facts, high grade industrial bonds may now be obtained at prices lower than the general average for two years back. Plainly the reason for this must be the abnormal money rates and speculative activity, rather than any change in the desirability of bonds themselves.

Judged by these factors and the growing scarcity value resulting from the limited output of new issues, carefully chosen industrial bonds at existing attractive levels merit the serious consideration of the conservative investor, who buys for income rather than for profit.

TO INDUSTRY

a new era in economical transportation

SOME time in August a message will be flashed from Dam 53 in the Ohio River announcing the completion of the greatest inland-waterways system in the world. . . The dream of revitalized, water-borne traffic on the Ohio and Mississippi will come true. . . An ambition requiring half a century and $120,000,000 will be fulfilled.

Another Advantage to Louisville Industry

With nine-foot, navigable river stage from the Alleghenies to the Gulf, this project further strengthens the position of Louisville as the manufacturing and distribution city in the center of American markets.

Supplementing Louisville's eight trunk-line railroads, this modernized water system assures even greater savings in shipping heavy, bulk materials to point of manufacture and in the distribution of finished products.

Combination Barge and Rail Rates

A recent order of the Interstate Commerce Commission providing for combination barge and rail rates now brings added markets and sources of supply within easy, economical reach of Louisville manufacturers.

Rich Markets—Economical Transportation

Combining the advantages of centralized position with the low-cost production facilities south of the Ohio, Louisville is surrounded by a market as large as can be efficiently and profitably served by the great majority of manufacturers. . . More than 50,000,000 people, virtually half the population east of the Rockies, live, work and spend their money within a 500-mile radius.

LIQUIDATION IS SEVERELY FELT ON CURB MART

Bastian-Blessing Stands Alone in Big Gain.

(New York curb list page 2.)

Chicago Tribune Press Service.

New York, May 22.—Large offerings of stocks flooded the curb market today, all but drowning speculators in a deluge of falling prices. The wave of liquidation came as a result of the news that the federal reserve advisory council had recommended an increase in rediscount rates from 5 to 6 per cent.

Among the most pronounced declines was that of Tuller Artificial Silk, which tumbled down a score of points, dropping the price to $410. Close on its heels followed a variety of other issues, all of which took the point. Firestone Tire and Rubber, off 12; Deere & Co., down 10; Bendix company, down another 10; Great Atlantic and Pacific fell 20 after a spurt upward during the last week; Singer Manufacturing down 10; and Safeway Stores, minus 15.

Stands Alone.

Standing out alone above the softening prices was Bastian-Blessing which shot up 14 1/2 points to a new high record. This leap was practically unaccompanied, however, and the list as a whole showed a gloomy preponderance of just one minus sign after another.

A concerted drive against the utility section found that group especially soft in spots, affording operators for the decline a centered point at which to launch their greatest pressure. Several at aviation, as well as certain oil, issues that had been under accumulation recently were also targets. In all three groups, however, some issues proved vulnerable to bear attacks, and even in those issues which led the declines a better tone appeared around midday.

Among the weakest issues in the utility division were American Superpower issues, American Gas and Electric, American Foreign Power warrants, Electric Bond and Share issues, Northeastern and United Light and Power, in which losses of 3 to 7 points were recorded.

Air Issues Drop.

Aviation corporation of the Americas lost 5 1/2, while Fokker, Curtiss Flying, Sikorsky, and Irving Air Chute, all strong in the last month or more, were pressed for sale. Douglas increased more than 3 points at the high levels, but was influenced slightly later by others in the group.

Various reports circulated recently concerning a possible merger of Transcontinental Oil with another petroleum company, brought strong buying into the preferred shares, sending that issue to a new high level of 125, with a gain of 12 points.

RAILROAD NOTES

The board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad at yesterday's meeting made Frank J. Fell Jr., controller, a vice president of the company. Mr. Fell will continue the duties of the controller and will be in general charge of all of the company's accounting work, which now becomes a separate executive department.

Missouri, Kansas and Texas road handled 10,119 revenue freight cars in the week ended May 18, against 10,536 in the same week last year.

During the period May 1 to May 21, inclusive, 1929, the Chicago and North Western handled a total of 116,803 loaded cars of all commodities, including ore, compared with 127,787 loaded cars for the same period last year, or a decrease of 8,516 loaded cars.

Edward G. Budd Manufacturing.

O. C. C.—The balance sheet of Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company at the end of 1928 showed the impairment in working capital of the year before corrected and some improvement in cash.

The proportion of current assets to current liabilities, however, was still unsatisfactory and the floating debt had not been reduced.

This gives explanation for the delay in resuming preferred dividends, suspended after the May, 1928, payment, in spite of recovery in earnings.

Sales of additional stock has been planned for the purpose of reducing the floating debt and providing additional working capital. Stockholders on June 12, 1929, will vote on increasing the no par common stock from 400,000 shares to 1,100,000 shares.

Gross profits for the first quarter of 1929 were $1,210,967. Net income was $741,228. In addition to profits from operations more than $1,000,000 was set aside in the reserve account during the first quarter.

Net income in 1928 was $1,410,966, against a loss of $1,170,708 in 1927. Surplus for the year was $729,725, against a deficit of $1,138,218 for 1927.

Earnings in 1928 were equal to $1.28 a share on the preferred and $1.28 a share on the common.

Profit and loss surplus as of Dec. 31, 1928, stood at $1,870,855, against $1,140,933 the year before.

Current assets were $10,665,509 and current liabilities were $9,237,228 as of Dec. 31, 1928. This left a net working capital of $1,428,281, which compares with a deficit of $1,531,197 at the close of 1927.

No dividends have been paid on the preferred since one of $1.28 on May 1, 1928. None have been reported on the common since Nov. 1, 1928.

The preferred is medium grade and somewhat speculative.

The common is a speculation.

LaSalle Royal Copper.

R. P. LaSalle Royal Copper company reported net profit of $45,878 for 1928, against a loss of $30,118 for 1927. Copper sales in 1928 amounted to $1,235,167, against $1,224,019 in 1927.

After payment of $282,549 in dividends there was a deficit for 1928 amounting to $196,623, compared with a deficit of $189,118 for 1927.

Earnings of 44 cents per share were reported in 1928.

Profit and loss surplus was $3,999,299 at the end of the year, against $3,296,021 at the end of 1927.

Current assets of $1,495,616 and current liabilities of $1,251,151 left a net working capital of $1,244,465 as of Dec. 31, 1928, which compares with $1,353,621 the year before.

In 1928 dividends amounting to $1.75 were paid on the $5 par stock; the last dividend is payable June 28, 1929.

The capital stock is a speculation.

Kentucky Utilities.

T. H. A.—Kentucky Utilities company $4,150,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds, series "A," dated Feb. 1, 1929, and due Feb. 1, 1940, are secured by a direct first mortgage upon all of the fixed properties, rights, and franchises of the company.

These bonds are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, May 22.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Market remained quiet and on a mixed local trade contracts moved irregularly lower to originally 17 1/2, the decline in cotton, Western interests sold early, but rebounded later when the grains staged a sharp rally.

Final prices were: May 1929, 17 1/2; July 1929, 17 1/2; September 1929, 17 1/2; October 1929, 17 1/2; December 1929, 17 1/2; January 1930, 17 1/2; February 1930, 17 1/2; March 1930, 17 1/2; April 1930, 17 1/2; ## THE UNKISSED BRIDE

By BERTA RUCK

SYNOPSIS

Dr. Rex Travers, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is a doctor of medicine. He is a well known specialist, and is a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will be forced to leave his home in Harley street.

Dr. Travers, a man, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a consulting physician in the south of France, which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he should go to the south of France. The only hitch to the plan is that they want a married doctor to be a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new life, Rex turns a deaf ear.

Dr. Travers has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape. He asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. The doctor is surprised by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is in need of another job, although her real reason is to have Geoffrey marry her. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new life, Rex turns a deaf ear.

Dr. Travers, preoccupied as he was with all this going-away racket and with the winding-up in under three weeks of work it had taken him three years to get together, had yet time to feel added anxiety. Already this informal engagement had landed him into countless things which he had not bargained. Lament and comments as profuse as if he were a couple of film favorites.

The girl had promised to play up; he admitted that she had begun to play better, but supposing every one saw through that, even as a boy seeing through it? Supposing one person after another began to see through the doctor's wife wasn't very happy with him?

Dr. Travers, the wretched girl was definitely unhappy.

Dr. Travers increasingly doubtful about the success of this wild experiment, he asked the girl if she wished to reconsider the matter?

If she did, could he let her go, when the affair had arrived at this point, all arrangements made, everything settled, money raised on it.

What was to be done?

A man ought to have time to consider and think out a problem.

A woman (meaning Granny Travers) has a way of taking shortcuts.

"Joy, dear Joy. Just a word."

It was that afternoon as Joy was going out on business to do with the firm of Federal Arthur's trunk-to say it was a boy's box to say it is a woman's box.

INSTALLMENT XXII A SHORT CUT.

Dr. Rex Travers, preoccupied as he was with all this going-away racket and with the winding-up in under three weeks of work it had taken him three years to get together, had yet time to feel added anxiety. Already this informal engagement had landed him into countless things which he had not bargained. Lament and comments as profuse as if he were a couple of film favorites.

The girl had promised to play up; he admitted that she had begun to play better, but supposing every one saw through that, even as a boy seeing through it? Supposing one person after another began to see through the doctor's wife wasn't very happy with him?

Dr. Travers, the wretched girl was definitely unhappy.

Dr. Travers increasingly doubtful about the success of this wild experiment, he asked the girl if she wished to reconsider the matter?

If she did, could he let her go, when the affair had arrived at this point, all arrangements made, everything settled, money raised on it.

What was to be done?

A man ought to have time to consider and think out a problem.

A woman (meaning Granny Travers) has a way of taking shortcuts.

"Joy, dear Joy. Just a word."

It was that afternoon as Joy was going out on business to do with the firm of Federal Arthur's trunk-to say it was a boy's box to say it is a woman's box.

"I couldn't have stuck a longer engagement," Joy said on a long drawn breath.

Without fastenings. She had on her little felt hat, her gloves, her shoes in her hand. Mrs. Travers drew her mysteriously back toward the kitchen stairs and murmured:

"Joy! Tell me the honest truth—"

She paused, so obviously uncertain as to how she ought to begin, that she ought to have begun that Joy herself encouraged her.

"Please do ask me anything!"

"Would this gentle, impulsive Romantic ask of her that which haunts the hearts of all mothers not of the Pansy Ford?"

"Oh, do you really care for my boy?"

"Granny Travers put it: 'Joy, dear, do you really, honor bright, want to get married?'"

Which Joy received a real shock. Supposing both Dr. Travers and himself became aware exactly how much she hated her situation? She said: "Well, the marriage can't possibly go on."

Regarding the marriage did not go on! At this moment Joy could not do anything worse. Panic widened those pink colored eyes. Panic widened those pale pink lips the answer—"Want to get married? Oh, course I do! It's only—it's just before one gets married that one knows that it's a mistake."

"I know, dear, I know. Perfectly hateful, isn't it? It makes you feel as if you were a prisoner, as people say. It's the upset in this house—"

She looked about her, from the walls of which the doctor's prints had been taken down. The pictures are horrible when one is moving. One can settle to nothing. One can't do anything but being inspected that makes you feel—"

"Joy, every girl goes through that," exclaimed Mrs. Travers, relieved that she had now located the trouble. "It's called 'bridal-fret'. But, Joy, you're only for another two weeks! Then you'll be away with your own boy, and everything all fresh and lovely around you. Aren't you glad that you're not to say it's all over?"

"Granny Travers, set the long row of Indian silver bracelets she wore down her forearm. 'It's not off about your taking the practice?'"

"On the contrary. Very much on about the practice. Gray, the Miss Travers present man has called away on urgent family business and will be home before this. This old lady," she rustled sheets of notepaper, "is very truly yours, Annie Simpson!" appears to have got the windup of the matter. "I couldn't have stuck a longer engagement," Joy said on a long drawn breath.

GASOLINE ALLEY—THE CAST OF CHARACTERS GETS COMPLICATED

Easy Teachers Invite Cheating, Educator Says

Avers Such Profs. Might Overtent Him.

Many college students cheat. More over, they're not to be blamed much for cheating if their professors are innocent enough to allow them to do it. That seemed to be the view of Dr. Clifton Gray, president of Bates college, Lewiston, Me., declared yesterday before the Association of Presidents of Baptist Schools and Colleges.

Dr. Gray's remarks were caused by the statement of Dr. George D. Potter, president of Shurtleff college, Alton, Ill., that a student had told him he thought no more of giving another student assistance in an examination, "giving another a ride in his intellectual flivver" was the phrase used by the student, than of picking up a friend along the road.

"Alumni tell me how the professors are imposed upon," Dr. Gray said in the discussion which followed. "What is put over on the professor is plenty. We find that about 10 per cent of the freshmen at Bates college cheat, and as the percentage is lower among upper classesmen it is presumed that they are wiser in the ways of getting by, and the percentage there actually is higher."

"It is deplorable that the professors allow cheating to be practiced under their noses. But I would probably cheat myself just for the fun of putting my wits against theirs."

The association met in conjunction with the board of education of the Northern Baptist churches at the Stevens hotel. Dr. Potter, talking before the board of education, asserted that solicitors for church promotion in all fields of effort have the right to assume the dignity of salesmen rather than that of beggars.

"If people would look at gifts for schools and colleges in the light of investment securities," he remarked, "much more would be accomplished. I do not regard myself as a beggar when I secure funds for my college. The salesman attitude is especially valid in connection with denominational educational institutions."

The new Tappert dormitory at 3028 Washington boulevard, for married students intending to enter the ministry, was dedicated yesterday by the Northern Theological seminary. The dedicatory cost more than $200,000, according to L. J. Lippert, who spoke as a representative of the building committee.

Sons of American Revolution Say Red Russia Menaces Yanks

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—(AP)—Election of Howard C. Rowley, publisher of the California Fruit Grower, San Francisco, as president general, and adoption of resolutions calling on citizens of the United States to combat the forces that are tearing down "reverence for God and the constitution" today marked the closing session of the fortieth annual congress of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Rushing through a slate of candidates without opposition, the delegates adjourned their business meetings today. A pilgrimage to New Salem, where Abraham Lincoln lived for a number of years, tomorrow will conclude the five day convention.

Frank B. Steele of Washington, D. C., was re-elected secretary general of the society. Other officers chosen were: Registrar general, Francis B. Culver, Washington, D. C.; treasurer general, George S. Robertson, Baltimore, Md.; chancellor general, Richard Hartshorne, East Orange, N. J.

Declaring that the soviet government of Russia is being carried on organized work with the avowed purpose of subverting existing governments and spreading the communistic doctrine, the S. A. R. adopted a resolution today calling upon congress to delay recognition of Russia until it shall abandon its "pernicious activities against our own and other governments."

Other resolutions approved R. O. T. C. and C. M. T. C. work and urged the largest of military training activities, pledged support to President Hoover in his law enforcement program, and urged citizens to keep the public schools free of "dissemination of atheistic, communistic, and socialistic doctrines."

The Inquiring Reporter Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter in any field and address your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune, For today's question, Mrs. Brown, 1428 North Avenue, Washington, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.
Should a wife account to her husband for money spent?

The Answer.
Meyer Morwitz, 2445 Alsie street, real estate broker—If he has confidence in her buying ability and common business sense, no. If a large expenditure is contemplated by either, the other should be informed of it. But if either is required to account for every little expenditure it's going to cause ill feeling and controversy. We use the budget system.

Mrs. Rosa Dixon, 1850 Waveland avenue, dressmaker—I don't believe so. I cause the average woman is sensible and doesn't spend money foolishly. However, in the case of an extravagant wife the husband is entitled to know where his money goes. He has to earn it.

F. H. Hackfield, 1111 Holly court, Oak Park, Ill., sales manager—Both should know in a general way for what purpose the family income is being expended. I am a married man. Some families find the budget system satisfactory. We prefer a more flexible plan.

Mrs. R. G. West, Batavia, Ill., housewife—I never thought about it. Should husbands have to account to wives for money spent—that would be more like it. I don't think either should, but if they want to have it that way both should give an account of what they spend. It's a half and half proposition in my opinion.

Mrs. N. B. May, 254 Mary street, Hubbard Woods, housewife—That's a question of tremendous possibilities. Some husbands should be made to give an accounting of where they are making and how much they are spending. That's one side of it. On the other men work hard for their money and why shouldn't they be permitted to have a good idea of where the money is going?

Trade Captains Pay Honors to Working Boys

Youth of 17 Hailed for Supporting Mother.

If the ambition of Alois Lyon, 17 year old graduate of Harrison Technical High school, is typically that of all other loop office boys, 700 of Chicago's business leaders need not fear that the men of tomorrow will misuse the heritage of good citizenship which will be passed down to them. For Alois places the care of his mother on an equal basis with the desire to become a successful business man.

The boy, six feet tall, who already supports his widowed mother and her younger children, was the guest of honor yesterday at the luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle. There he symbolized the typical loop office boy in the association's participation in Boys' week ceremonies. Yesterday was Boys' week in industry and many heads of business concerns all over the city brought honor upon their $2,000 young employees.

Introduced by J. P. Wahlman, member of the association's entertainment committee, who declared that the Chicago of tomorrow depends on the youth of today, Alois thanked, in behalf of the boys in industry, their employers for the interest taken in them. Following his presentation, the business leaders broke into cheers.

Among other major celebrations yesterday was the noon hour entertainment at the Western Electric Hawthorne works where 1,200 boys employed there took part. The only grown-up on the program was Judge Francis Allegretti.

If the business men of tomorrow are to be as successful as they hope to be they must have good health in the opinion of the Kiwanis clubs of Chicago, who today through their chairman, Dr. Thomas A. Carter, will direct the health program. Physical examinations of thousands of boys are scheduled and addresses before school assemblies by principals of 450 schools, will be made on the care of the body.

Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel prepared health pointers for use in the schools. Suggestions for the school program were sent out by Dr. C. Delaporte, director of physical education for the board of education, including such activities as health talks during class periods by physical education teachers, talks by students prominent in athletics, talks by teachers of household arts on hygiene, nutrition, housing conditions, and clothing, moving picture posters, emphasis on good posture, discussion of health conditions in industry by commercial departments, discussion of sanitation by civic departments, and the presentation of first aid work.

Another feature of boys' accomplishments was the gathering of Boy Scouts last night in the bungalow on top of the Hotel Sherman. Seventeen boys from all over Chicago became Eagle Scouts following their examination by S. R. Gorsline, Chicago scout commissioner and his committee. This is the highest honor that can come to a Boy Scout, less than 200 among Chicago's 14,000 scouts, having attained the honor.

Boys' week will reach a climax tomorrow with the observance of school and citizenship day.

Mrs. Charles S. Clark is presiding officer of the conference of club presidents, which is to hold its annual spring luncheon today at the Stevens hotel. Edith Macchi of the Chicago Civic Opera company is to sing at the program following the luncheon.

Young Singers of Senn High Win Laurels

Critic Is Delighted by Work of Chorus.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The A Cappella chorus of Senn High school probably is going to be the life saver of several choral organizations in the future. It is already in a condition to fill a number of adult choruses with despairing envy and other unamiable emotions, but to those who admire without desiring to compete, its concert at Orchestra hall was a thing of great joy.

There were some 300 of them on the stage, all uniformed in green gowns. Noble Cain, minus green gowns, was in the center, directing them. There they sat, no music in their hands, singing in six and eight parts, at times even in ten and eleven, always without accompaniment, and every once in awhile in the midst of a song letting forth a tone that was simply heavenly.

They still are young, too young to have learned any bad musical habits. They were concerned with pronouncing words, so the tone came of itself, cheerfully, thrillingly, and generally beautifully. In that respect they must have given head to the advice given Alice in Lewis Carroll's famous work, "Take care of the sense and the sounds will take care of themselves."

Occasionally they flagged. There was one song by Macchietti wherein some of the numerous subsections fell off from the pitch. But they followed it with a "Carol of the Russian Children," arranged by Harvey B. Gaul, wherein the final word, "Light," had a thrill as though the whole world were all at once turning on its lights. That was a song that called for instant repetition.

There were other features to the concert. Eugene Dressler, the tenor who sings well, sang his best in two groups of assorted numbers. Joanna Stragusa, who has a marked talent for the piano and two uncommonly deft hands for its display, played a pair of works by Liszt. But the chief memory is of 300 charming young persons who sang angelically a program that was in great part Russian.

Meanwhile the Catholic Casino Male chorus was giving another concert at Kimball hall under the direction of J. N. Mood. Now in its fifty-seventh season, it is a sincere, well trained organization which moves from grade to grade numbers, from sacred to secular works of all the ages with equal precision and distinction. Edwin Kemp, tenor, was the assisting artist, and there were other soloists during the concert, including W. J. Friedrich, Hermann J. Schlitt, L. T. Glasmeyer, and Philip Niles Jr.

Woman Doctor Wins Recognition in London University's Pageantry

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, May 22.—For the first time a woman doctor was elected deputy chairman of the convocation of the University of London. Dr. Winifred Cullis, head of the physiology department of the London school of medicine for women, was the woman so honored. That is a special honor, because women face more than prejudice now than ever before according to Dr. Cullis.

"I expect to see a woman vice chancellor of the university of London some day," Dr. Cullis said, "and why not? Of course, women vice chancellors will have to be as able as men—the first of them a little better. But things will have to change a little before that. There is more prejudice against women now than ever before because of men's fear of them."

"During the war women showed that they could do men's work quite well and for the first time men realized that they were faced with a real rival. But the men will learn in time that there is room for every one. A woman does not drive a man from his job—her work simply creates more work."

Indeed Dr. Cullis thinks that more women ought to work. The nation cannot support idlers she said and she thinks that wives of professional men who are often very gifted, but spend their time amusing themselves and not only wasting energy but becoming prematurely old through lack of absorbing interests.

United Lutheran Church Synod Elects Officers

Officers of the Illinois synod of the United Lutheran church in America for 1929-30 elected yesterday in their annual convention were T. B. Ober, St. Louis, secretary; H. A. Kingsbury, treasurer; and Frederick Sacher, statistician. The office of president does not open for election until next year, and the Rev. J. M. Brankamp, Chicago, continues in that office. Eleven ministers have been received into the Illinois synod this year.

Prof. Paul Shorey Elected to Belgian Royal Academy

Prof. Paul Shorey, head of the Greek department of the University of Chicago for the last 20 years, has been elected to the Belgian Royal Academy of Science and Letters. It was announced yesterday.

Pope Modifies Plan for Walk in Rome Procession

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, May 22.—It is now said in the Vatican that the pope's first journey into Italian territory will be made in only a few days now, but that his holiness has decided not to lead the historic Corpus Domini procession around St. Peter's square on May 30, as was announced yesterday. Because of the long and tiring ceremonial involved in this procession it is understood that the pope will make a shorter journey on June 4, the setting aside that day for thanksgiving for the conciliation of the Roman church and the Italian government and for the blessing of the populace.

Authors Demand Royalties on Talks, Same as Stage

MADRID, May 22.—(U.P.)—Flaughwrights retain their rights in plays adapted to the talking pictures. It was agreed at a session of the International Authors' confederation last night. The convention decided that royalties shall be on the same basis as stage plays. The German, French and Italian delegations participated in the discussion.

Danville, Ill., May 22.—(UP)—Roy O. West of Chicago, former secretary of the interior, will be the principal speaker at the dedication here tomorrow of Harrison park, which has been donated to the city of Danville by John H. Harrison, editor of the Danville Commercial News. The celebration will include a luncheon by the Kiwanis club and a dinner for 400 tomorrow night in the Harrison park clubhouse. Two hundred and thirty-three acres are included in the tract of land that was presented to the city last fall by Harrison. Col. George T. Buckingham, Chicago lawyer and formerly of Danville, will speak at the banquet.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Funeral services for Michael Patrick Ford, for 53 years an employee of Marshall Field & Co., who died on Sunday, were held yesterday at the St. James church, Maywood, instead of on Tuesday as was stated in THE TRIBUNE. Burial was in All Saints cemetery.

She Minded Her Own Business and Was Well Rewarded

BY DORIS BLAKE

A young woman went into an office four years ago at 15. She was average in looks, nothing distinctive nor especially attractive about her appearance. She was extremely neat, though, about herself, her work, her desk. A cheerful little thing, with her ever ready "Good morning." Willing worker, too, like many other girls who are young and enthusiastic about their workaday lives. If it weren't for one great virtue that this young woman retained throughout her four years' employment as secretary, there might never have been written the extremely nice romance on which her friends are congratulating her at this moment.

As in many other offices and stores or occupational centers where there are a number of employees, there were cliques in this one. Little groups divided against other little groups. Two or three girls were at odds points with two or three other girls, waging war over anything that might be used for discussion, trivial things for the most part.

Miss 25, joined some of the groups. She played almost a lone hand, although the other girls were not made too consciously aware of her reserve. She never carried a tale or a message back and forth. If a confidence was forced on her, it went in one ear and out the other.

The men in the office began to say what a peach of a girl Miss M. was, with emphasis laid on her manner of minding her own business. The official whose diamond she is wearing and whose name she will be bearing the latter part of June had his attention drawn to the girl by the enthusiasm of the other men around the office. He was not her direct chief at any time, but he found it difficult to talk with her, more romantic ones later to walk with her and presently she'll be established in a smart apartment with a husband who frankly admits his infatuation began with a strong admiration for a girl who could mind her own business so beautifully in an office.

Of course, we can't promise the same happy ending for every girl employee. But with places of employment the matchmaking centers they are and men having a universal taste for the girl who can hold herself aloof from the petty bickerings around her, there's no telling what cultivation of the good habit may bring in the way of reward.

Brace J. Brown Elected Trustee of Drury College

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Springfield, Mo., May 22.—Brace J. Brown of Chicago, an official of Montgomery Ward & Co., who today was named a member of the Drury board of trustees here, will be the youngest member of that group. Brown, who was a graduate from Drury college in 1914, is 27. He majored in mathematics and won a fellowship at Illinois university. The board also selected George W. Melcher, superintendent of schools at Kansas City, as chairman of the trustees' organization. He also is a graduate of Drury.

Prince of Wales Flies to Nottingham; Kide a Duke

NOTTINGHAM, England, May 22.—(AP)—The prince of Wales, who flew here from London this morning, created a hearty laugh at a luncheon in his honor while the duke of Portland was proposing a toast. "The prince has often listened to long boring speeches," interjected the prince in a whisper, forgetting that an amplifier was placed in front of him. The duke chimed in, "that is what I was going to say."

Sunday Is German Day; Tableaux in Soldiers Field

Tableaux depicting the important historical events in the lives of the German people from early times down to the participation of the German-Americans in the world war will be the feature of German day which will be observed by thousands of native and naturalized Germans at Soldiers field Sunday. A description of the celebration was given last night by Judge Walter W. Meyer before the Steuben club at Hotel Sherman.

HERE, GIRLS, is a Hint from Hollywood

We've gone to the casting directors of the musical shows and to the movie studios at Hollywood—and they all say the same thing. A girl must have lustrous hair—lustrous hair—before she can be really beautiful. Lustrous hair is a shining frame for every face—whether in fashion or good or bad. And lustrous hair is possible to everyone—thanks to Hennafoam. The secret is the pinch of henna in every bottle of this marvelous shampoo. It doesn't change the color. Oh, no! But it does light the natural fire in your hair in a truly marvelous way. You'll be delighted with Hennafoam merely as a shampoo. But after the last time lustrous comes—and what a difference! At dealers everywhere—or we will mail a sample on receipt of 10c. Just write Dept. 523-TR, 511 W. 42nd St., N.Y.C.

VARIOUS EVENTS

Beta chapter of Delta Zeta Chi sorority will give a card party this evening at the Southmoor hotel. The May meeting of Theta Sigma Chi will be held today at 50 East Cedar street.

GERMANY SENDS US WHOLE ARKFUL OF ASSORTED ANIMALS

Boston, Mass., May 22.—(AP)—One of the largest cargoes of animals ever landed at this port arrived today on the German steamship Hagen from Hamburg. Most of the animals were consigned to John T. Benson, proprietor of an animal farm near Nashua, N. H., and American representative of the Hagenbeck Brothers of Germany. The shipment included 184 African baboons, several zebras, lambs, antelopes, and monkeys, and several cages of birds. There was also a lioness, a camel, a baby hippopotamus.

To Crown May Queen.

The coronation of the May queen at Northwestern university will take place on the campus today. Miss Jane Olson, a member of the junior class, who reigned last year, will crown her successor.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to substantiate or return unsuitable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Amy Lee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Tommy, a second grade youngster, is so full of fun and mischief that his mother, in desperation, offered him a dollar if he would get B in deportment for one month. Tommy struggled hard the first two weeks, but then he came down with the mumps and had to stay home for five days. "O, boy," was his cheerful acceptance of the fact, "a whole week that I'm keepin' my deportment up."

Jimmie came over to ask Jack about the new arrival, saying, "Your dad says you have a new brother. Is it a boy?" "Naw," replied Jack, "It's a girl. I saw them put powder on it."

PATTERNS BY CLOTHILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS. This pretty dress is made of navy blue silk crepe with charming green piping outlining the one sided drape. It would be most attractive, too, made in red and white checked gingham with plain red piping, for everything this season is gay and colorful. The pattern, 2548, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 40-inch material, with 6 yards of binding.

Nestle's REVOLUTIONARY INVENTION IN PERMANENT WAVING

Mr. CHARLES NESTLE (C. Nestle), the originator of permanent waving and inventor of the Nestle Text-o-Meter, is one of the foremost hair-scientists in the world. His inventions and writings have made the name "Nestle" the most widely known and most famous name in hair-science.

WHAT IS YOUR NUMBER?—

In sixty seconds the Nestle Text-o-Meter Test discovers your "number." That "number" tells your hairdresser what strength Nestle Crodiline your hair requires for permanent waving. She cannot use the old kitchen chemicals—such as borax, ammonia or caustic soda—and wave your hair according to its "number." You must insist on Nestle Crodiline, prepared by the Nestle Laboratories in different strengths, according to your type of hair and the size of wave you want.

THE NESTLE TEXT-O-METER WILL FIND IT

NOW—your hair will be tested before permanent waving! Now—your hair will be permanently waved according to its individual requirements—and according to your own taste in wave size!

No longer need your hairdresser wave your hair by guesswork. Now scientific knowledge takes its place. No longer need you fear over-treatment of the hair, which means an ugly "frizz" or hair-breakage—nor under-treatment of the hair, which means a wave that soon disappears.

At last you can have a permanent wave that is uniquely your own—that is as safe as it is beautiful, because your hair is tested in advance! The Nestle Text-o-Meter, the instrument that reads your hair, makes all this possible. It is revolutionizing permanent waving!

No wonder thousands of hairdressers have already equipped their shops with this extraordinary new invention. Let your hairdresser discover your "number" on the Nestle Text-o-Meter! Phone her for an appointment for your tested wave—today!

Nestle—the greatest name in Hair Science—also offers the following scientific hair preparations: Nestle's perfect hair dye; Nestle Baby Hair Treatment, for promoting the growth of curly hair; Nestle Color-Rins, for the Hair; Nestle Medicated Shampoo; Nestle Veg or Le Sol, the superlative hair cream. The better shops use them and call them.

Sarah Brewster Marries They Fly

BY THALIA. Sarah Brewster, daughter of the late John Brewster, married yesterday a young man like a glorious comet—a commercial success—the Lake Forest school's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, was a prominent, with its own wide on the Chicago business and grounds.

One of the most interesting marriages in the city, in which the bride came from the east and the groom from the west, just before the war.

Only the family and friends were present for the nuptials at 4:30 o'clock, but a large number of the guests were present for the reception at the bride's home. The service was read in the presence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, who were accompanied by the bride's sister, Miss Brewster, and her husband, Mr. Brewster.

The groom, Mr. Brewster, is a young man of 25, who has been a member of the Lake Forest school for several years. He is a graduate of the school and is now a member of the Chicago Bar. The bride, Miss Brewster, is a young woman of 22, who has been a member of the Lake Forest school for several years. She is a graduate of the school and is now a member of the Chicago Bar.

The wedding was a simple affair, with only a few guests present. The bride wore a white dress and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Brewster, who is the pastor of the church where the wedding took place.

The bride and groom will be married in the city of Chicago. They will live in a new house that the groom has just purchased. They are both very happy and are looking forward to a bright future together.

The wedding was a very happy occasion for all who were present. The bride and groom were both very happy and are looking forward to a bright future together. The wedding was a very happy occasion for all who were present.

It Really Takes Two Young Parents to Rescue One Wife

By CLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

It's always a nice helpful thing, to suppose, to follow up a diagnosis by surgery.

After warning women yesterday against the danger of submerging themselves completely in their children that they cease to be wives, I know I shall be asked: "But what can I do about it?" So I suppose the only thing to do is to turn the column into a sort of miniature Court of Domestic Relations for a few minutes.

Just as it takes two to make a quarrel, and two to make a marriage, it takes two to pull a young mother out of this morass and make her back into a wife and a human being. Since so much of the cause of her slipping into it is traceable to fatigue, which causes a consequent craving for sleep, or a lack of vitality to be interested in or enjoy things that have to be averted, if possible. This means that the mother will have to do some managing of her day and her duties in order not to get over-tired. One important step toward this is to manage a nap. I'm not talking from theory—I know this is not easily done. But if it can be, it is one of the greatest helps.

It not only rests the body, but puts the nerves in such shape that everything which has to be done during the rest of the day is turned off with more ease and calmness. If you can't manage it at any other time, take your nap when the baby takes his, even if you would like to use that quiet time for other things.

The other suggestion is that the father do his part. I know many men who help take care of their children because it is a pleasure to them to do so. Lucky these children and lucky these fathers, because this helps to bring them close together. But if a man doesn't enjoy taking some care of his children, let him start doing it as a help to his wife—so she can have more time for him.

Even a small thing will help. If, for instance, the baby is still on a six o'clock bottle and the father slips out of bed and "wakes" his wife, he may be able to get an extra hour or even more of the sleep she needs, or putting the baby to bed while his wife finishes dinner is a real lift, or occasionally getting his own breakfast when his wife's sleep has been broken by the baby during the night.

Some division of the care of the baby or the work of the house is not too much to expect of a man, especially if his wife does all her own work. Then their interest in the baby is a common interest, and their baby's mother will have freedom enough to still be his companion.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

L. H. Flint, a federal expert, who has conducted extensive investigations into the use of paper mulch in the growing of crops, recently issued a circular in which he suggests how gardeners and farmers may make their own tests. The circular, No. 77, "Suggestions for Paper Mulch Trials," gives a brief history of the method in increasing yields of certain crops, discusses how to use the paper, and cautions growers on various points in making tests.

Mr. Flint says the circular is intended as a guide to growers interested in its practical possibilities, who desire to ascertain through small tests whether they may make economical use of the stimulation of plant growth and other advantages frequently resulting from paper mulch.

He points out that little is known regarding the relation between the use of paper mulch and the application of fertilizers. The initial paper mulch trials indicated that the poorer the soil the greater the percentage of difference between the mulched and unmulched crop. Even with a relatively great increase in yield resulting from the mulch the yield still might be unprofitable. The absolute difference between the mulched and unmulched crops increased with fertility. It is deemed entirely reasonable to look to the paper mulch for an increase in soil moisture and soil temperature, he said.

Illustrations are given in the circular to show the proper methods to use in laying the paper on gardens and in fields and orchards where different kinds of crops are grown.

Copies of circular No. 77 may be obtained by writing to the superintendent of documents, United States government printing office, Washington, D. C. The government charges 5 cents a copy.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Felt in Danger.

We, mother and I, are both widows. In the midst of moving to a new town we found that the museum would not fit the kitchen floor, and with bread knife, shearing scissors, and carving knife we went into the back yard to try to cut it ourselves instead of waiting to hire a man to do the job.

We had finished the cutting, and I took the knives and scissors into the house. Just inside the kitchen door the carving knife dropped and stuck straight up in the soft wood of the floor.

"Hoorsy! A man's coming!" I called out cheerily to mother, who was still in the yard in back.

"I'll have him!" mother called gayly.

"No, I'll have him. The knife dropped out of my hand," I joked.

"No, I'll have him!" mother called gayly.

I glanced at a shadow in the front door and there stood a strange man, visibly embarrassed. It was the pastor of the church, and all through the visit he nervously referred again and again to his wife. He seemed to fear both of us equally and to this day I dread meeting him with his nervous greeting and his constant references to "my wife!"

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A Use for Old Flower Baskets.

I make paper flowers to help support my family—my husband has been ill and unable to work all winter. I have several orders for baskets, which I am unable to buy, and I wonder if any of your readers have old ones they would give me. Mrs. E. R. R.

Once the cut flowers have withered the baskets which contained them cannot always be put to use. Mrs. E. R. R.'s handiwork, however, has been able to convert them into money for the support of her family since she has had to fill the place of breadwinner. Won't you give her any you may have?
